9 Others Fired After Ignoring Probe Group

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—U. N. sources reported Thursday night nine American U. N. employees already have been fired in 1952 for refusing to answer questions on alleged subversive activities and nine more are expected to be dismissed Friday.

Seven of those already fired have been discharged since the U. S. Senate internal security subcommittee headed by Sen. Pat McCarran (D-Nev) began public hearings in New York in October. The other two were fired earlier in the year.

The nine pending cases involve American employees who have been on special leave with pay under orders of Secretary General Trygve Lie since their McCarran Committee appearances.

Lie had previously announced the firing of four of those included in the total of nine already dismissed; three were new. It was the first disclosure of this total.

A U. N. spokesman recalled that Lie said when announcing four previous firings that he acted not only because of their refusal to testify but on further evidence supplied to him by American security agencies.

Alleged Connections

The two staff members dismissed earlier in the year—Eugene Wallach and Irving Kaplan—were fired after refusing at previous committee hearings to answer questions about alleged subversive connections.

Those already dismissed had temporary contracts with the U. N. The nine whose cases are expected to be disposed of Friday are permanent U. N. employees and therefore come in a different category.

Lie has had expert advice from a three-man panel of international lawyers on how to deal with them and other Americans in similar circumstances.

The jurists recommended that Lie fire any employee who refused to answer questions about alleged links with the Communist party or anti-American espionage because such refusal created a "climate of suspicion."

Lie had given the nine pending until noon Thursday to tell him the answers to the questions they had dodged. Their replies to Lie were reported unsatisfactory.

A U. N. source said Lie would have a statement on the issue Friday morning.

Attempts To Link Suspect, 60, With Grandma Stalled

LOS ANGELES (INS)—Attempts to link a silver-thatched robbery suspect with Grandma's bank banditry were dampened somewhat Thursday when a bona-fide woman showed up to claim ownership of the women's clothes found in a hotel room.

Police discovered a pill-box type hat and a scarf—articles similar to those worn by the "little old lady" who has robbed three Los Angeles banks—in the hotel room of 60-year-old Alfred H. Hughes and immediately advanced the theory he may have masqueraded as Grandma.

But a woman, Helen M. Owens, 40, walked into the room while officers were there and said the clothes belonged to her. She was arrested.

Attempted To Flee

The pink-cheeked, slightly-built Hughes, whose arrest record goes back a half century, was captured Wednesday as he attempted to flee an airlines ticket office with $934 he assertedly obtained by faking a gun in a holdup of the establishment.

Police are reluctant to drop suspicion that Hughes may be the "little old lady" who has robbed three Los Angeles banks of $4,000 during the past seven weeks.

They said he would be forced to don the confiscated clothes later and appear at a "show up" before Grandma's victims.

Yoshida Action Hints Ike May Be In Tokyo

TOKYO (INS)—Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida unleashed speculation President-elect Eisenhower is in Tokyo by announcing he cannot attend the weekly cabinet meeting Friday because he must meet a "foreign envoy."

Yoshida also said he was not decided whether he can appear at Friday's Diet (Parliament) session.

Several days ago Yoshida said he would confer with Eisenhower if the President-elec visited Japan and wanted to meet him.

Yoshida parried all questions of whether a meeting with isenhower had been arranged, however.

MITCHELL OUTLINES THE PROBLEM—Stephen A. Mitchell, chairman of the Democratic National committee, tells a special House Election Law Committee Thursday that the key to their problem is a "fair presentation of the opposite sides to the people." Mitchell added that the Republicans had three dollars to spend for every dollar the Democrats had, and he said many newspapers gave much more space to Gen. Eisenhower than they did to Gov. Stevenson. Air Searchers Spot Missing C-47 Wreckage

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP)—Aerial searchers reportedThursday that wreckage and bodies were sighted 11,000 feet high on Mt. San Gorgonio, apparently sealing the fate of an Air Force C-47 plane missing since Monday night with 13 men aboard.

Maj. James McCall, March Field Air Base pilot, reported he had sighted the wreckage and indication that the ship burned in the crash.

Marine helicopter pilots reported sighting bodies strewn about the wrecked fuselage.

The lettering "MATS" Military Air Transport Service was discernible on the tail section. Positive identification of the wreckage as that of the missing plane awaited arrival at the scene of ground parties, dispatched to climb the 11,485-foot mountain through deep snow and extremely rugged terrain.

The plane was enroute from Omaha, Neb., to March Field, Riverside, Calif.

Much Of Same On Weather Docket—Fair And Warmer

More of the same is on the docket for Nebraska Friday weatherwise, with predictions calling for mostly fair skies during the day, and a few clouds Friday night.

Temperatures, after a drop into the upper teens or twenties Thursday night are expected to climb to near 50.

The warm weather and sun will allow the eastern part of the state, hardest hit in the pre-Thanksgiving Day storm, to continue work in clearing packed snow and ice off highways made hazardous for driving for over a week.

Middle East Aid Chief CalledHome

Locke Coming Back For 'Consultations'

WASHINGTON (INS) — Ambassador Edwin Allen Locke Jr., President Truman's Middle East aid co-ordinator and an outspoken critic of U.S. policy in that powderkeg area, was disclosed Thursday to have been called home for "consultation."

In a series of unusually frank interviews last month, the ambassador warned that the Communists are making headway in their desperate attempts to dominate oil-rich Near and Middle Eastern countries.

Locke

Locke, a former Bostonian and more recently vice president of New York's Chase Bank, not only spelled out the dangers America faces in a region of prime military importance but laid down the course he believes the U. S. must follow for its own security.

State Department sources confirmed reports that Locke will arrive in the U.S. from Lebanon over the weekend and will begin Washington conferences Tuesday. But they refused to say whether he is planning to resign because of the policy disagreement.

Resignation Custom

It was pointed out, however, that as a Truman appointee, Locke is required by custom to tender his resignation before the inauguration of President-elect Eisenhower.

The ambassador has maintained that instead of merely giving technical advice and assistance in the Middle East, the U.S. should finance and construct vast power and irrigation projects.

Locke said his position is that the U.S. must actively develop the rich resources of the Near and Middle East to cement firm friendship with the peoples of those countries as a vital bulwark against Red aggression.

He said the location of the countries in which his mission has been conducted is so strategic that their aid or opposition could mean the difference between victory and defeat should World War III explode.

Locke's work has been concentrated in Lebanon, Syria, Jordan, Iraq, Saudi Arabia, Egypt, and Yemen.

In his analysis of the economic undervelopment which threatens the future of the Arab states, he said that although Iraq and Saudi Arabia have "fabulous oil resources" and are making progress, the non-oil states are at a standstill and urgently need U.S. development aid.

Churchill Reveals New Defense Effort Cutback

. . . Move Made To Loosen Tangled Economy

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill Thursday announced a new cutback in the British defense effort to minimize the entanglement of the nation's economy in an inflationary spiral.

He did not specify the size of the cut in his statement to a packed and attentive House of Commons. But he made it clear the action was designed to protect Britain's financial solvency.

"Some curtailment must now be made," Churchill said. "This will, to some extent, involve the cancellation or modification of contracts already placed.

The reductions will, so far as possible, be brought about by spreading deliveries of equipment over a longer period. It will, however, not be possible to solve the problem entirely by spreading deliveries forward into future months or years."

This was the method used in the first cutback. Churchill's Conservative government announced last winter that Britain's long range, 13 billion dollar rearmament program, first put forward late in 1950, had been extended a year beyond the originally planned three years because of manpower and steel shortages and the effects of the nation's economic crisis.

Last July Churchill warned that a further curb would be necessary to prevent "a plunge into bankruptcy."

Churchill stressed that Britain is as determined as ever to carry her full share in the efforts of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Britain is now spending 1,462,000,000 pounds ($4,093,000,000) a year for defense. More than a third of this goes for new weapons.

Under the original defense program, the prices would have pushed to a total of 1,650,000,000 pounds ($4,620,000,000) this year, Churchill said, and to 1,800,000,000 pounds ($5,040,000,000) next year.

Asians Fear Reds Preparing Jap 'Lost Legion' For Action

SAN FRANCISCO (INS)—Asians fear the Communists have a "lost legion" of battle-hardened Japanese veterans ready to spearhead new Communist military adventures in the Orient.

Japanese talk of an army of 20,000 poised on Sakhalin, the Russian-held island just north of Japan. This army, say the Japanese, has been trained to consider itself dedicated to "liberate" the homeland from the "American oppressor."

Chinese Nationalists on Formosa long have talked of Japanese prisoners of war lending invaluable aid to the Chinese Communist army.

Latest report from Chiang Kai-shek's Formosa is that about 100,000 Japanese veterans are serving as artillery and communications experts with Gen. Lin Piao's Communist Fourth Field army, the army that was chased out of Korea in the spring of 1951.

Asians are frightened by these reports for they remember the men of the Imperial Japanese Army of World War II as ruthless fighters who had mastered modern techniques of war better than any other Asians.

Japanese and Koreans the Japanese trained for several years after World War II were considered the only Asians who knew how to use heavy artillery, radio, radar and warplanes effectively.

Best estimates by Allied sources are that about 370,000 Japanese never returned from Communist captivity after World War II. Most of these were soldiers or men of military age.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur once charged publicly that the Russians were holding these Japanese as slave labor to build up Soviet war-making power.

The last batch of prisoners returned from Soviet Russia arrived back in Japan in January of 1950.

Omaha, McCook To Be Represented In Shrine Parade Here

Lincoln's Sesostris Temple will be host Friday to two highstepping Nebraska Shrine musical organizations at the annual Shrine parade ceremonial and fall reunion.

McCook's Shrine Oriental Band, composed of 32 brightly costumed musicians, and the Omaha Tangier Temple Rangers, 15-man Western-dressed group with a swing band tempo, will highlight the parade.

Beginning at 3:30 p.m. at 15th and M, the marchers will move north to O, west on O to 10th, then south on 10th to N and east on N to 15th. Parade marshal will be Bill Manske of Lincoln.

An estimated 65 to 70 candidates are expected at the ceremonial at the Fairgrounds 4-H Club building, according to Lincoln's Illustrious Potentate, W. W. Putney. Prior to the ceremonies, expected to attract about 1,100 persons, a banquet lasting from 4:30 to 6 p.m. will be held at the Shrine Temple.

United Auto Workers Leader Victor Over Allan S. Haywood

Election Follows New Bid For Unity With American Federation Of Labor

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (INS)—Red-haired, sharp-tongued Walter Reuther was elected president of the CIO Thursday and in an acceptance speech pledged the group will carry on its "practical work on the bread and butter front."

The dynamic, controversial Reuther, president of the CIO-United Auto Workers, was chosen over Allan S. Haywood, executive vice president, to succeed the late Philip Murray.

The 45-year-old new CIO president, who began his union career at age 15, served notice after his election that organized labor will "fight vigorously" against any "new obstacles towards its progress."

Reuther's rise to the leadership of the huge CIO has been marked by frequent controversies. Several years ago he was the target of an assassin's bullets which left him with a paralyzed arm.

The total vote for Reuther was 3,079,181; for Haywood, 2,613,103, making the red-head's victory margin 466,078.

Reuther claimed the CIO's "enemies" watched the contest for the union's presidency in "cocktail bars of union league clubs and millionaires' clubs all over America . . . with hearts filled with hope."

He added that "the men on their plush cushions" will "find out" that the fight between Reuther's camp and forces which backed Executive Vice President Allan S. Haywood for the presidency did not weaken the organization.

The election came after the CIO made a new bid for unity with the American Federation of Labor. The delegates adopted a resolution authorizing creation of a committee to seek a meeting with the AFL and "honorable labor unity," the move followed a declaration last week by George Meany, new AFL chief, that the AFL would strive to resume talks with the CIO for labor unity.

Thursday's move toward joining ranks with the AFL was a reaffirmation of the stand taken by the CIO last year and prior conventions.

Reuther is the third president of the CIO. John L. Lewis was the first, and Murray, who died Nov. 9, the second.

Haywood was re-elected by acclamation as the CIO's executive vice president.

Electrical workers President James B. Carey was re-elected without opposition as secretary-treasurer of the CIO.

Middleweight Crown Is Lost By Sugar Ray

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York State Athletic Commission Friday morning vacated Sugar Ray Robinson's middleweight championship.

Chairman Robert Christenberry of the commission in a statement said that the title was being vacated because of Robinson's not complying with a rule that says a champion must defend his crown every six months.

Christenberry said he had given Robinson an extra month to decide whether to continue his boxing or go into a career as an entertainer. Up to now, he has not had an answer from Robinson.

Jury To Decide If Lattimore To Face Perjury Indictment

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government gave the controversial case of Owen Lattimore to a federal grand jury Thursday, asking the jurors to decide whether the Far Eastern expert should be indicted for perjury.

The Senate's internal security subcommittee contends that Lattimore told "flagrant" falsehoods when he was grilled for 12 days last spring about Communist connections and what influence he wielded on America's postwar policy in the Far East.

When he was challenged by the senators about contradictions in his testimony, Lattimore said they were lapses in memory about trivial things many years ago.

Lattimore is director of a school of international relations at John Hopkins University, Baltimore. For a time after the war he also served as a consultant to the State Department on Far Eastern affairs.

Air Base Housing, Hangar Space Solutions Are Discussed

Ultimate Need Of Up To 4,000 Living Units Cited

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

Lt. Col. Frank R. Crabtree, commander of the Lincoln Air Force Base, has presented the city with the ultimate need of from 2,500 to 4,000 living units for Base personnel.

In return, city representatives presented the colonel with an estimated 3,300 vacancies by the time the Base reaches full complement a year from now.

The figures presented by Col. Crabtree was said to be the maximum and minimum requirements. They were based, he said, on the assumption that about 40 per cent of the personnel would represent families in need of off-base housing.

According to the Base commander, about 150 to 200 families will move into Lincoln in July among the total 400 to be based here then. After that, he said, new families coming into the city will number about 150 to 160 each succeeding month.

Some of those families, said Col. Crabtree, will want to buy homes, providing G. I. loans are available but the largest demand will be for rental units.

The reported 3,300 vacancies a year from now were accounted for by Ervin E. Peterson, chairman of the Air Base Coordinating Committee sub-committee on Housing and Commercial Services. Peterson stated that where 700 rental vacancies are known of now, there are another 700 unlisted and unknown to his committee.

Next, Peterson counted 400 rental units which he said local builders plan to build in northeast Lincoln. The units, he said, will be in fourplexes and rent for from $70 to $75 per month.

To that 1,800 unit total, Peterson added another 1,500 dwellings to be constructed locally during the next year. It makes no difference, he said, whether the units are rentals or for sale.

If an individual buys a new home, he reasoned, it is bound to leave a rental vacancy someplace.

Both Col. Crabtree and Howard C. Beresford of Denver, regional representative of the Air Forces Office of Community Services, expressed satisfaction with the housing "framework" presented by Peterson.

The Air Force officials, meeting with the Coordinating Committee headed by Attorney Max Kier and Chamber of Commerce officials, were also assured that there would be ample school facilities provided for the estimated 1.7 children per Air Force family.

Walter Jancke, co-chairman of the recreation sub-committee, told the Air Force representatives that the Lincoln Board of Education was already trying to make plans for the increased school enrollment after full reactivation.

The group also gave some discussion to providing recreational facilities for the airmen but no decisions were reached along that line. Said to be particularly in need was U.S.O. facilities or a similar place of leisure for the men.

Cost Of Moving United To Temporary Site 'Crucial'

United Air Lines technicians will arrive in Lincoln Monday to find the answer to the crucial question of how much a move by United into temporary terminal facilities will cost.

The answer to that question will determine whether or not United will make the move or suspend operations temporarily. Should a suspension be deemed advisable, it would be on a temporary basis, according to E. G. Merchant, Denver, United general services manager.

United, also operating Braniff Airways locally, is faced with the necessity of vacating its present terminal facilities by Jan. 1 at the latest. The terminal building becomes Air Force property after that date.

Following a Thursday morning meeting of city, Air Force and airline representatives, Lt. Col Frank R. Crabtree, Lincoln Air Base commander, said the group has tentatively agreed upon the use of the third hangar to the south of the existing terminal as the new temporary quarters for the airlines.

The Air Force, said Col. Crabtree, is willing to contribute up to $3,000 in remodeling the south hangar for use as a terminal. However, he stated, the Air Force cannot assume the financial burden of moving the airlines.

Merchant had stated in the meeting that the move might cost from $3,000 to $4,000. He added, however, that that was purely a guess.

After the moving costs are determined, said Merchant, it will then be up to United to decide on the move.

The city has plans now for a new terminal building but the structure will not be completed for several months.

The need for expediency in the matter was pointed up by Col. Crabtree who stated that "come Jan 1, I have a duty to enforce. As much as I want to work with the city and the airlines, I could not let the government lose money."

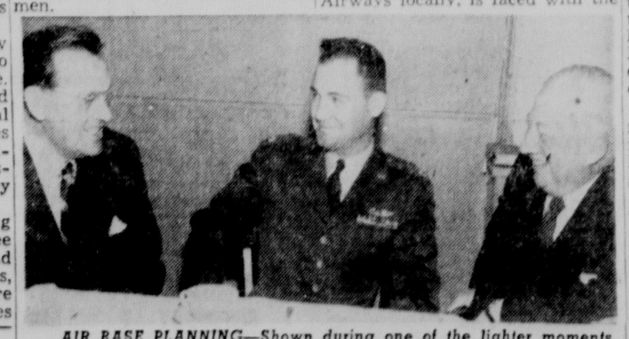

While no one would be kicked out of the terminal, said Col Crabtree, "I could preclude entree."

The Air Force intends to begin construction early in 1953 on a new hangar of its own on the site now occupied by the terminal.

Col. Crabtree also pointed out that before Jan. 1, the city has salvage rights on the existing terminal. After that date, he said, the city has no rights whatsoever.

Other United officials attending the Thursday meeting were E. J. Lupin, legal advisory from Chicago; and John Mitchell, Lincoln manager. Other Air Force representatives were Lt. Col. Everett Hansen, Omaha District Corps of Engineers, and Maj. Robert Ednie and Earl Fiala, Lincoln area engineers for the Corps of Engineers.

City officials attending the meeting were Councilman Chauncey W. D. Kinsey, chairman of the city's Air Base Reactivation Committee, and City Engineer D. L. Erickson.

Venezuela Is Shaken By Clashes

Strikes Also Follow Election Of Jimenez

CARACAS (INS) — Venezuela was shaken Thursday by student clashes with police, demonstrations and a general strike call in the capital—the aftermath of Sunday's disputed election which brought an Army colonel to power as provisional president.

Government officials said backers of the leftist opposition, which claimed victory in the election, also attacked police headquarters at San Pablo, in the state of Yaracuy.

Newspapers in Caracas suspended publication and other commercial enterprises were hit by a wave of strikes forcing them to shut down.

The disorders were disclosed in a nation-wide radio broadcast by Interior Minister Laureano Vallenilla Lanz.

He claimed the opposition in Sunday's election circulated false reports of victory on the basis of incomplete and "deliberately limited" results.

The Minister indirectly declared that the government-backed parties won the election, justifying the selection of Col. Marcos Perez Jimenez as provisional president. He was a member of the military junta which ruled four years before it resigned following the election.

Vallenilla Lanz said the disorders also resulted in part from rumors that the government would not recognize the results of the election.

The labor ministry meanwhile called on strikers to return to their jobs or face dismissal and loss of welfare benefits.

Ike Using 'Qualification Chart' In Forming Administration

NEW YORK (AP)—President-elect Eisenhower is building his administrative staff with the aid of a lengthy report by a management consultant firm detailing qualifications required of persons appointed to key positions.

The aim of the report is to provide a yardstick for getting the ablest men in policy making jobs —to avoid square pegs in round holes.

The survey was begun more than six months ago—prior to Eisenhower's nomination—by McKinsey & Company of New York at the request of Republican leaders now close to the President-elect.

Marvin Bower, a managing partner of the company, stressed Thursday the report dealt solely with the background and qualifications needed by the persons appointed to specific important posts.

He said the report did not recommend any individuals for positions. It states the job requirements and leaves it to the administration to find the persons who meet the needs.

A copy of the McKinsey report was turned over to Eisenhower shortly after his election. Other copies have been made available to key officials already appointed and who have appointment of their own to make.

Boys Town Steer Sold For $2.60 Per Pound

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The grand champion steer—a Boys Town, Neb., beefer named Romulus—brought $2.60 a pound at the Great Western Livestock Show Thursday.

The 1,050-pound Hereford was raised by John Fluery, 18-year-old 4-H Clubber from Boys Town. The $2,730 purchase was made by Jake Kosloff, owner of the Last Frontier Hotel at Las Vegas, Neb.

Boys Town's 4-H group also won the grand champion steer carload title. They sold a herd of 15 steers to the Atlas Packing Co. for 45 cents a pound.

Pinpoint Hill Fighting Dies; ROKs Holding

SEOUL (Friday) (INS)—Fighting on Pinpoint Hill in Central Korea died down Thursday with South Koreans still holding the high ground in bitter, sub-zero weather.

The Republic of Korea forces smashed the last gasp of a 60-hour Chinese attack against the Sniper Ridge area Thursday morning as the coldest weather of the winter swept the entire battlefront.

Okinawa based Superforts flying through ice gale-lashed skies reared deep into northwest Korea last night and poured 100 tons of explosives on the Communist supply center at Cholsan near the Red Manchurian border.

The Big American B-29s battled 100-mile winds and 43 degree subzero temperatures before reaching the 70-acre target area 25 miles southwest of Antung on the Manchurian frontier.

Far behind the front lines in North Korea an American Sabrejet ace downed another MIG-15 jet in the third straight day of swirling aerial battles.

The Russian-made jet was shot out of the skies by Capt. Robinson Risner, Oklahoma City, Okla., for his sixth "kill" of the war. He also has a Red plane probably destroyed and one damaged.

The bloodied Sniper Ridge area was reported quiet throughout most of the day after the South Koreans smashed an early morning platoon-sized attack in a battle lasting an hour and 15 minutes.

Liquor Commission Has No Plans To Reconsider Controversial New Rule

Members of the liquor control commission said Thursday they have no plans to re-consider and possibly hold a hearing on the wholesale price posting and discount rule which went into effect Dec. 1.

It limits discounts to 25 cents per case on quantities of ten or more cases.

The rule was adopted Nov. 14 in a meeting held at the home of Commissioner G. H. Rydman in Omaha. Rydman is recovering from a recent illness and the other two commissioners went to Omaha for the meeting.

Chairman C. E. Linn and Commissioner Nathan Pont said Thursday reaction to the rule has been "very favorable." They said there had been no request for a public hearing.

3 Are Found Guilty Of Illegal Hunting, 2 Of Assault, In Jammed Beatrice Court

By BILL HINEL
(Beatrice Staff)

BEATRICE, Neb.—Gage County Judge Oscar L. Clarke Jr. Thursday found a trio of Beatrice hunters accused of hunting on a posted farm without permission guilty, and two of them guilty on an assault charge.

The hunters, Charles "Wes" McKinney, and his two sons, Donald, 18, and Lafe, 26, were fined $20 and costs each on the hunting without permission charge.

The two sons were found guilty of assault and Don McKinney was fined an additional $65, while his brother, Lafe, was sentenced to seven days in jail on the same charge.

More than 100 spectators, evidencing a keen interest in relations of sportsmen and farmers, crowded into the courtroom and overflowed into the lobby and halls.

Lyman Bartlett, farmer near Ellis, Neb., told the court that on Nov. 16 he saw a car parked in the road and, knowing his hogs were loose in the cornfield, he went to the field to tell the hunters not to hunt there. He said Don and Lafe McKinney assaulted him.

Ernest Hubka, attorney for the McKinneys, said his clients thought Bartlett was a "sneak-thief" attempting to rifle their car and for that reason grabbed him.

French Boycott United Nations Tunisia Debate

UNITED NATIONS (INS) — France boycotted the U. N. Political Committee Thursday when it began debate on the question of Tunisia.

French Delegate Henri Hoppenot informed committee Chairman Joal Carlos Muniz of Brazil that his government could not recognize U. N. intervention in the Tunisian question and would not take part in the debate.

In a letter to Muniz, Hoppenot said he regretted the decision not to participate.

Internal Matter

He pointed out that French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman had told the General Assembly on Nov. 10 that the Tunisian question was an internal matter of France and could not be legally discussed by the U. N.

First speaker in committee debate on the Tunisian question was Sir Zafrula Khan, foreign minister of Pakistan and one of the sponsors of the Asian-Arab resolution for resumption of French-Tunisian talks on the subject of independence.

Despite French opposition, 13 Asian-Arab nations are pressing for adoption of a joint resolution which calls for the resumption of negotiations between France and the Tunisian colonial government on the dispute over self-determination. The French government broke off talks with the Tunisian authorities on the issue early this year.

The new commandant will dance the first dance with Wayne Handshy, president of the COA. This year's ball is sponsored by advanced Air Force students at the University. The Arnold Air Society is in charge of decorations.

Peiping Reds Say We Can't Use India As Truce Mediator

TOKYO (INS) — The Communist Peiping radio Thursday stated flatly "we cannot have India as mediator" in the Korean armistice deadlock.

The propaganda broadcast, referring to the Indian compromise formula presented to the U. N. in New York, said:

"The Indian proposal indicates support of the attitude of the U. S. Army headquarters in Korea and also means that the Indian delegate is on the U. S. and British side.

"The only solution to the Korean problem can be nothing less than to repatriate all prisoners of war to their own country."

Warning Issued On Ag Future

SCS Chiefs HoldAnnual Meet Here

Soil conservation district supervisors were given a warning Thursday on America's agriculture future.

B. H. Hopkins of Lincoln, assistant regional director of the Soil Conservation service, said that the population of the country will have increased by 32,000,000 by 1975.

And, he added, about 115,000,000 more acres of cropland will be needed to support this added population at the present standard of living if the present production rate is continued.

Speaking at the annual meeting of the Nebraska State Association of Soil Conservation District Supervisors at the Lincoln Hotel Hopkins warned that there aren't that many (115,000,000) acres to be added to the cropland.

It is estimated that 30,000,000 acres can be added by drainage, irrigation, and clearing. The equivalent of about 10,000,000 acres can be added to the productive capacity by full mechanization and other improvement in the operation of land that is farmed with horses.

The outlook, Hopkins said, is 75,000,000 acres short of the anticipated needs, which presents a challenge to the nation.

The only chance to meet this challenge is to increase the productivity of our land, Hopkins said, which means that conservation farming must be practiced on all lands.

E. G. Jones of Lincoln, state SCS conservationist, reported that up to Oct. 30, SCS employees had helped over 3,700 new district co-operators begin the development of farm conservation plans.

Jones also said that the planning phases of the soil and water conservation program should receive greater attention on the part of everybody.

"We need to see that the individual farm conservation planning is continued as an adequate and sound basis for the application of complete, co-ordinated conservation work on the farm.

The group's auxiliary elected Mrs. J. E. Conklin of Hubbell as president, Mrs. Hjalmer Quist of Blair, vice president and Mrs. Albert Watson of Wayne, treasurer.

Area vice presidents chosen:

North Central—Mrs. H. T. Massie, Broken Bow.

North East—Mrs. F. M. Curtis, Tilden.

Lincoln C Of C Luncheon Will Honor Griswold

Senator Dwight Griswold of Gering, successor to Sen. Fred Seaton of Hastings, will be honored at a luncheon given by the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce Monday noon, Dec. 15.

All Chamber members are invited to attend, according to A. A. Du Teau, national councillor, who is in charge of the meeting.

"Any member interested in national legislative policies should take this opportunity to visit with Sen. Griswold. He will give his view of the Washington scene and will answer questions put to him by those in attendance," DuTeau said.

Tickets must be purchased in advance. They may be secured at the Chamber office.

State Won't Make Holiday Inductions

No Nebraska youths will be jerked away from Christmas festivities for induction into the Army, Frank O'Connell, assistant director of selective service said.

No draft inductions will be made after Dec. 15, O'Connell explained, until next year. He said some youths might be called for physical examinations during the last half of the month but none of them would be inducted this year.

Practically all of Nebraska's Air National Guardsmen will be home and off active duty by Christmas.

Capt. Elmer Herron, Lincoln base detachment commander of the Air National Guard, said that groups of Guardsmen are being shipped to Lincoln all the time for release from active duty and the last group should be here by Christmas.

Ruling Given On Howard Hospital Bond Issuance

The Howard County Community hospital bond issue, which failed to receive the necessary two-thirds majority at the Nov. 4 election, can be resubmitted to the voters within six months and the same ballot used, the attorney general's office said in an opinion given State Auditor Ray Johnson.

Dispelling the Shadow of "Doubt"

Like doubting Thomas, mankind largely remains incredulous that Jesus' healing work was the action of divine law, and doubts that prayer can heal today.

This doubt can now be honestly dispelled. To any sincere seeker there is proof, ample, abundant, and at hand, that the law of God is still available for humanity's need. The Christian Science textbook shows plainly that God's healing, helping power exists. It shows how it is ever available to anyone who understands the same truth Jesus knew, which he directly promised would "make us free."

SCIENCE AND HEALTH with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy

This great book shows how to find for oneself this spiritual understanding, and how to put it to the test in daily life.

As one gains this priceless knowledge of the Christ, health and happiness ascend to the realm of unshakable certainty.

Science and Health may be bought, read, or borrowed at

Christian Science READING ROOM

That The Public May Judge

Out in the white light for the public's gaze is a long-sputtering controversy over the huge Oahe Dam which the Corps of Army Engineers is building on the main stem of the Missouri River eight miles above South Dakota's capital of Pierre.

★

The opposition to Oahe long has been gathering force. It is a development of king-sized magnitude, little short of breathtaking in its scope. It would back the waters of the Missouri from the damsite to a point only a few miles below Bismarck, the North Dakota capital, and naturally a lake of that size would inundate many thousands of acres of productive South Dakota bottomlands. Outwardly the chief opposition to Oahe arises from land-owners, who understandably are up in arms against sacrificing their most productive acres in order to protect some of the cities downstream—Sioux City, Omaha and Council Bluffs, others—from devastating floods.

★

That is one group of Oahe's critics, but another source of opposition, more militant, better-organized, more effective, is the private utility companies in a portion of the basin area which fear the power to be developed by Oahe. For a long time during the initial studies of Oahe and the early construction (it is now one-tenth complete), this opposition operated underground. Now it makes no secret of its determination for a last-ditch fight. It has filed a protest on Oahe openly, and it would not be unreasonable to suggest that it looks in friendly helpful spirit upon the fight being waged by those whose lands would be submerged.

★

Even as the crow flies, it is a considerable journey from Oahe to Omaha or to thousands of acres of the flat Missouri Basin lands in Nebraska, each year subjected to a battering by the unruly waters of the Missouri.

★

In Omaha in midweek a spokesman for the Corps of Army Engineers, Gen. Potter, said bluntly that without Oahe, there is no Pick-Sloan Plan for controlling Missouri River floods. That could be an over-emphasis of the place which Oahe occupies in the Pick-Sloan Plan, but we doubt it. The four Missouri main-stem dams which are an integral part of the flood-control plan on the Missouri, either now nearing completion, under construction, or just getting started, will supply a maximum storage of 53,525,000 acre-feet, simply one whale of a lot of water. It will take an incredible amount of melting snow, or unprecedented torrential rains draining into the main stream to tax the capacities of those huge dams. Of the four, Oahe will store 22,200,000 acre-feet of water, slightly less than half of the maximum planned storage under the Pick-Sloan Plan.

★

Only Garrison, with a storage of 24,500,000 acre-feet, now nearing the final stages of construction approximately 60 miles to the north of Bismarck and backing water nearly to the Montana line, will handle a greater volume of surplus Missouri River waters. Randall, virtually done, has a capacity of 6,300,000 acre-feet; while Gavin's Point, near the Nebraska border, will hold only 525,000 acre-feet. It is a regulating reservoir. In addition, among the main-stem dams is Ft. Peck in Montana, the first big dam undertaken on the Missouri, a dam which has been in operation for some years, with a maximum capacity of 19,400,000 acre-feet. Canyon Ferry in Montana has a capacity of 2,051,000 acre-feet; while Big Bend, another regulating reservoir not yet on the drafting boards, will hold 340,000 acre-feet.

★

The people above the dam whose lands will be flooded cannot subscribe to the justice of a program which takes from them in order to protect others miles below them. It is proposed that a series of small dams storing much less water than Oahe alone will hold be substituted. But not only would that cut down the control of the Missouri's unruly flood waters, but it also would cost the people of the United States not less than 100 million dollars more. And at the same time, these smaller dams would eliminate the generation of electricity so vitally needed by the people of the Missouri Basin states, especially the peoples of the Dakotas. The final judge will be the people of the Missouri Basin, although it is doubtful if Congress will force anyone to accept dams to which they are opposed. The success of the fight against Oahe probably spells the disintegration of the basin flood program. And it is not improbable that developments boiling to a head will so shape themselves that the issue will be determined within the next three months.

Accent On Youth

Governor-elect Bob Crosby made an excellent choice in selecting Max Denney of Fairbury as his administrative assistant.

Mr. Denney is young, energetic, wise in the ways of politics, and should prove most helpful to his chief. He has been active in Nebraska Republican party affairs, is held in high esteem by his political associates. There is the announcement by Mr. Crosby that, in a sense, his administrative assistant actually will occupy the role of "assistant governor" with a large measure of responsibility. Which suggests that Mr. Denney will not only be charged with looking after a large mass of the detailed burdens of the office but also will figure in decisions affecting administrative policy.

Both Denney and the governor-elect are young men, physically active, staunch party workers generally identified with the more liberal wing of the Republican organization.

Chances are that Governor-elect Crosby will cut down materially on the amount of travelling that has characterized the present administration. He indicated during the course of the campaign that he plans to spend more time in the office. If he does, we think the people of Nebraska will be appreciative. But the business of the state has reached the point where no single man can watch everything connected with it or even pretend to keep an eye on the various activities and agencies. There is plenty to keep an administrative assistant fully occupied.

Putting It Up To Russia

As a demonstration of unity, the free nations of the world could ask for little more than the vote in the United Nations General Assembly on India's compromise truce plan to end the Korean War.

It was approved solidly by 54 to 5, with only Russia, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Bielo-Russia and the Ukraine in opposition. The action of the General Assembly of the United Nations may or may not have practical results in bringing to a halt the Korean struggle. The outlook is none too bright.

But as a matter of psychology among masses of people, that action cannot be dismissed lightly. It places Russia in a most embarrassing spot. In tackling the delicate issue on war prisoner repatriation, the Kremlin is stopped by the free nations in Russia's campaign that it is the western nations who want the war to continue. The 17-point truce plan presented by India may not be perfect but at least it serves excellently to test the purposes of those responsible for initiating the Korean struggle.

Now, with approval by the General Assembly of the United Nations, it goes to Communist China where perhaps its fate can be anticipated in advance. At least outside those countries which cast negative votes, the people will know who is to blame for a continuance of strife.

An Athlete Thinks Straight

College football has received its share of knocks, accused of crass commercialism, extraordinary subsidizing of athletes and attempts at bribing players by gambling interests. Some of the criticism is deserved, some of it exaggerated. Football is still a great game, and if the abuses connected with it can be eliminated it will continue to be a grand sport.

An event in Minneapolis the other day shows that football and football players have another side—a fine, admirable side.

Nebraska football fans will have no difficulty remembering Paul Giel, the elusive halfback who has dealt so much misery to the Cornhuskers for two years. Giel is an all-American of the first order, the Bobby Reynolds of Minnesota. He is also, according to reports, a fine student and a young man with modesty and judgment.

Giel was offered a professional baseball contract with a bonus provision of $50,000 simply for signing his name on the dotted line. He was faced with an immediate decision, for the major leagues were considering placing a $6,000 limit on bonuses, and if he delayed too long he might lose out on the lucrative offer. Giel, a junior with another year remaining before he would receive his college degree, did not take long to make up his mind. He chose to remain at Minnesota, finish out his playing days and obtain his degree in education. He explained that he owed this not only to his teammates, but to himself.

No reasonable person who has not been swayed by the glitter of gold would quarrel with his decision. Not many young men are faced with a difficult choice of this kind; some young men might have chosen differently. College sports have had their moments of glory on fields of competition, but this quiet episode in the life of a superlative athlete deserves recognition as an excellent example of values and a magnificent expression of conscience.

Marking Washington

It appears that the Republicans, after they take over the reins of government on Jan. 20, will at least know in which direction they're going in the nation's capital.

New color markings will be put up on the streets of Washington—blue markers for north bound routes, green for east, red for south and yellow for west. The markers will appear every few blocks, and will be reflectorized for visibility at night.

So long as the new congressmen, cabinet members and appointees aren't color blind, they'll be able to get around in a city which has a reputation for confusing strangers in more ways than one.

Happy Ending

Announcement of the marriage of the young man and woman in the Broadway play "South Pacific" shows that make-believe isn't as much fun as real life. In the play the star-crossed lovers never got married, but the guy and gal said the words the other day in a wedding ceremony. Truth is not only stranger than fiction, but sometimes adds a nice touch to it.

Korea A Land Of Vital Geographic Importance

(Ed. Note—In the following column in Drew Pearson's series on what Eisenhower faces in the Orient, he describes the hazardous future of a divided Korea.)

WASHINGTON—In the summer of 1945, while Gen. Eisenhower was resting from his victory over Germany, there were planted in Korea the seeds of difficulty which he must try to unravel today.

This was a headlong rush by the Siberian Red army south to take Korea; matched by a similar rush by the American Army under MacArthur north to take Korea.

Faced with a possible clash by two supposedly allied, but potentially hostile armies, their commanders did what Eisenhower did when he withdrew American troops to the River Elbe. They drew a line along the 38th parallel, and each stopped on its own side.

Russia, which stayed in the north, got 56 per cent of the territory, one-third of the people, the lion's share of the minerals, 50 per cent of the gold, most of the coal, iron, and water-power.

The United States, which remained in the south, got 44 per cent of territory, two thirds of the people, the rest of the farm land, the best climate, fisheries, and a small amount of industry.

It was this unfortunate, ungainly division which planted the seeds of the present war. For the two sections of Korea have far less chance of existing separately than did our North and South in the 1860's.

It should have been no surprise, however, that the Red army would "rush" Korea. For 80 years, Moscow has cast a greedy eye at the peninsula, has coveted its long shore line, has realized its strategic location. Because the army that controls this peninsula jutting out in the Japan Sea is an ever-present danger to the seething, bustling, potentially powerful empire of Japan.

In fact, it is said that the army that controls Korea can dominate much of northern Asia.

☆ ☆ ☆

Twenty years ago, when transportation was relatively old fashioned, I crossed the narrow strait separating Japan from the tip end of Korea in an antiquated South Manchurian RR ferry-boat in a matter of hours. Today by airplane it's a matter of minutes.

This strait is the bottleneck of the Japan Sea. The nation which guards both the Korean and the Japanese side of the narrow waterway can dominate shipping into Vladivostok, at times bottle up eastern Siberia.

And the nation which has its army on the Korean peninsula, almost cheek and jowl with Japan, is an ever-ready threat to our No. 1 bastion of defense against Asiatic Communism.

That is why Korea has been ravaged and fought over since before the days of Christ. That is why its fields have been wasted, its hills eroded, its people conquered.

There was a time when Korea was the religious center of the Orient, admired by China and Japan alike for its art, science, architecture, and literature; when it produced the first encyclopedia, the first astronomical observatory, the first ironclad warships. But most of the time, and especially in recent years, its great importance has been geographic.

That is what Gen. Eisenhower faces today. Though his mission is to carry out his pledge to work out "an early and honorable end" to the fighting, actually he will have to consider the over-all question of Pacific policy.

☆ ☆ ☆

And if he follows the policies urged by his new Secretary of State, John Foster Dulles, and of his congressional leaders to take a more vigorous stand against Asiatic Communism, he will have to move forward, not out of Korea.

For the repeated demand of Republican leaders, from Speaker Joe Martin to Minnesota's Congressman Judd in the House, to Taft and Bridges of New Hampshire in the Senate, is that the United States must take a firmer, more aggressive stand against Communism in Asia.

Korea cannot be divorced from that stand.

That is why, even before Korea became a hot issue in the presidential campaign, or before it was ever suggested that Eisenhower go there, Gen. Mark Clark began sounding out the Pentagon, not regarding a withdrawal, but an advance.

This was the backstage reason for reports that Gen. Clark had asked for three more U. S. divisions. Actually he had not asked for them. He had only sounded out the Pentagon. But the plan for their use has been under definite discussion just the same.

This plan calls for a troop build-up during the winter with a full offensive in the spring. The Navy and Marine Corps urge another amphibious landing behind enemy lines as part of the plan; while the use of Chinese Nationalists from Formosa is also under consideration.

☆ ☆ ☆

These are the problems Eisenhower will have to decide after he becomes President. They are delicate, difficult problems which cannot be decided on his trip to Korea. Nor can they be decided by the outgoing administration.

The new commander-in-chief as a military man should be well-equipped to make a decision in a manner to inspire public confidence. But along with this military decision must be weighed some vitally important political decisions.

No. 1—Will our U. N. allies go along with us on an all-out offensive in Korea? The French and British have held back of late; in fact, our U. N. allies seem even more anxious to wash their hands of Korea than the discouraged American public.

No. 2—Will Moscow retaliate in another part of the world if we start an offensive in Korea? Will she go into Iran while we are busy in Korea? Or will she intensify the attack on Indo-China? Or will she do both? It is perfectly feasible for Moscow to use the troops of satellite countries in remote parts of the world where we cannot easily retaliate—even if we would.

These are the difficult, almost insoluble problems the President-elect faces on his trip to the Orient.

YANKS IN BRITAIN

Proud British People Resent Being 'Poor Relations' Of U.S.

(Editor's Note — This is the fourth in a series of articles reporting the problem of anti-Americanism in Britain, particularly as regards GI's there.)

By ROBERT A. WIENER

LONDON—British and American observers report that U.S. prosperity is one of the causes of anti-American feeling in Britain.

The British are a proud people. They dominated the world for centuries through their empire. Their Navy was the world's biggest. They controlled vast supplies of the world's raw materials, manufactured the goods for many non-industrial countries and carried the bulk of the world's trade in British ships.

They no longer enjoy such a position. They have faced a continuous economic crisis since the end of World War II. They are struggling from month to month with the problem of exporting more and more to enable them to live. There are tight domestic controls on all phases of the economy and enormous income taxes and other taxes.

They have seen the United States and even former enemy countries prosper more than they have in the post-war world.

They are beholden to the United States for billions of dollars worth of economic and military aid. They are grateful for that aid but it hurts their pride to have to be dependent on it.

They have seen some Americans come to England flush with money, owning big automobiles, wearing smart new clothes, possessing the latest gadgets and bubbling over with the abundance of the American way of life.

Their resentment is increased by signs in English shops reading "For overseas visitors only," which enables Americans to buy goods with dollars and take them free of the stiff purchase tax which every Englishman must pay.

Sometimes Americans talk too loudly about the material benefits to be had in the United States. Sometimes they criticize the British for being slow to accept change, or for having such old-fashioned plumbing.

☆ ☆ ☆

But most American civilians and servicemen create a good impression and are well-liked by the British. They're friendly but not overly so. They're generous, and it has had its effect.

Harry Brown, a taxi-driver in Cambridge, commented:

"I've seen and met Americans both during the war and since, and most of 'em would take the shirt off their back and give it to you if you asked for it."

The high point in anti-American feeling came early in the Korean War when Gen. Douglas MacArthur advocated bombing Chinese Manchurian bases.

More recently, when American planes bombed the Yalu River power plants, anti-American feeling asserted itself with little restraint. The fear in Britain was that such action could have spread the Korean War.

The Communists are quick to exploit these differences for all they are worth. In the Daily Worker, Communist newspaper, the constant theme is that the United States is leading Britain down the road to war and ruin.

But the rest of the British press also is involved. Foreign policy stands by the United States which run counter to British thinking bring big head lines and editorial attacks upon America?

In British government circles there is a fear that the United States may pursue a course of "irresponsibility" in its foreign policy and bring on a large scale shooting war by some rash action.

☆ ☆ ☆

When Americans complain about high taxes they pay to finance Europe aid, the British become irritated. They assert their tax burden has been far greater than that of the United States since before the war.

They seldom forget to point out that Britain fought World War II alone through the dark days of 1940-41 at great cost while, the way they look at it, "big profits" were being made in the United States.

Britain is now waiting eagerly to see what effect on Anglo-American problems and relations the new administration of Gen. Eisenhower will have.

Bachelors, Blizzards, New Shoes For Alice

By MONA B. PARKER

Life can be difficult for bachelors, muses The Kearney Hub, especially when they are on the road in cold weather. Kearney police apprehended one such traveler when they discovered him occupying an abandoned house. It wasn't so much the occupation that was the subject of objection, but rather the man's improvised fireplace. The fireplace consisted of a bucket in the center of the floor in which the traveler had built a fire.

Three Hyannis deer hunters didn't mind sleeping at Doc Von Tour's animal hospital Tuesday when they found themselves stranded in Alliance. Primarily they had sought a place to hang three deer brought out of Wyoming and had taken them to the hospital. When they were unable to find rooms, they were happy to accept the offer of an extra bedroom at the Von Tour place of business.

Arch Jarrell wrote his Tuesday column with an eye on what was going on weatherwise outside his Grand Island Independent office window. As he watched, a policeman placed a ticket on the windshield of an overparked car. He thought back to November 18, 1948, when a skeleton crew put out the paper, and then stacked it in the basement because there was no way to make deliveries. He remembered the March blizzard this year, when he went to the station to pick up the new Jarrell pup, Trouper, and got home about three o'clock in the morning . . .

"I shouldn't like blizzards, but I do. There is an elemental fury about them that intrigues the imagination. And they make something to talk about for years afterward."

In her Walthill Citizen column, Helen Marr counted over her many blessings, listing the fundamentals of home, health, good crops and the privilege of living in America. Then she thought about it in a personal sense. There was the oil burner that had replaced the untidiness of the old wood stove in the parlor—and the kitchen stove using bottle-gas which, with a flip of the control, cooks the food, heats the water and does the baking.

"How," she asked herself, "did I ever manage when I baked all our bread, heated all the water, even for washing, on the old-fashioned kitchen range, using cobs for fuel? Well, I did it, thought nothing of it at the time, and in those days I cooked and washed for seven of us."

Editor Bill Lee was so busy scouring the Emerson area for 100-bushel corn raisers that he almost overlooked one right there in South Sioux. He is Ralph George, whose hybrid plot yielded 130 bushels per acre and who, according to Mr. Lee, is having trouble getting a picker through it.

☆ ☆ ☆

Walter Stock has been doing the corn screening at the Auburn bin site and from one quonset storage bin found five pounds of assorted items—all kinds of metal pieces, and everything from a fire-cracker to a bottle opener to a piece off a sewing machine.

Edward P. Curran, in The Greeley Citizen: "With a record corn yield, the country is assured of plenty of mush and cornbread. We don't know much about vitamins but we are certain there are a lot of 'em in those foods."

An item in The Schuyler Su tells about one of their little citizens and one of her bigges thrills. Last week six-year-ol Alice Jakub got her first pair shoes, white ones. The youngste was born with dislocated hips an has spent most of her time i hospitals. Such progress has bee made, however, that she is no allowed to walk without her brac for a short time each day—hen the white shoes. There are hope that she may even begin he schooling this year, and that ar other year will see her able cast the braces aside altogethe In which event, says The Su "new shoes will very likely ceas to be an event in the Jaku family."

A onetime Hastings High School football player was reminiscing about a teammate who blossomed into a stellar lineman after several unimpressive appearances as a sub. The coach noted that the youngster seemed to have trouble following the ball, and suspected eye trouble. And he was right. The player was wearing his helmet backward and the portion intended to protect his neck reached almost to the bottom of the gridder's nose.

The People Speak

Stuart Chase Books

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: There are six little books written by Stuart Chase and sponsored by the 20th Century Club of which Chas. P. Taft is one of the trustees. I understand there is a symposium of these books in our City Library. I have only one, "Tomorrow's Trade," written at the close of World War II. It is a small book and could be read in an hour. The theme seems to be Santa Claus or tariff. I wish everyone in the GOP party could read it. President Roosevelt, who was a believer in Woodrow Wilson, remarked not long before his death that there was nothing for which people would fight harder than for their ideals and he hoped that trade would soon get to moving and that it would get people to work, since that was the best way to fight Communism.

Teacher's Point Of View

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I formerly taught school, consequently many of my friends have been urging me to return to the profession. There is a serious teacher shortage, but I prefer to go on in some work which permits me to live as a woman my age should be permitted to live.

Why this serious shortage? As I see it, after a trial of a few months last year, a severe trial, I might add, it is because teachers are put on a ridiculous pedestal, something we don't even do to mothers and fathers of the students! They are expected to be paragons of perfection as examples to their students. Does anyone think for one moment that this is advantageous for teachers or students or parents? It is not. The students well know how many of their parents and their parents' friends conduct themselves. The comparison is odious, as comparisons always are. So what a teacher demands becomes a ridiculous thing. It is not realistic, the student reasons, for the outside world has a different sense of values. The student prefers to keep his feet on the ground and live as human beings live. He should, perhaps, idolize his teachers, but does he in most cases? Not in the face of the above.

Job satisfaction is essential if the shortage of teachers is to be done away with. There is much thought given to job satisfaction and to ways of achieving it in personnel work, which was my field for 15 years. Our teachers are probably one of the most important factors in all our lives. Why not give serious thought to their job satisfaction? Believe me, it is much more important to any worker, professional or otherwise, than most unthinking parents, school board members and school administrators seem to realize. Any field that gives as well as takes from workers is filled to capacity. We, the public, expect too much training, terrifically nerve-wracking work and effort from our teachers for little financial compensation. In addition, we "nag" them at every turn and watch them like hawks, lest they fall from the pedestal on which we have put them! When will the public, through their school boards, permit our able school administrators to run their schools as humanely as most business, industrial and commercial organizations are run? We all know that the workers in business, industrial and commercial organizations, through their unions, have achieved and held on to this good treatment. Our teachers may have to organize their own fight. Should we make that necessary, it will be a sad commentary upon our society.

What gave rise to the above was this announcement over the air on Wednesday, Nov. 26: "All parochial schools will be closed today. The public schools will also be closed but those teachers who can will please report." If you were a teacher, would you report? I should not. There is a principle violated there — something I should not wish to aid or abet. Can you blame me or any teacher or former teacher? After all, I have had a taste of human treatment by able administrators, who are not criticized by the public at every turn.

Why was this included in the announcement? I believe the school administrators were guided by what they felt sure public re action would be. I do not blam them, but I do not wish to retur to a profession where I would n have one able boss but hundred of nagging, uninformed bosses the public. Why demand th amount of excellent training re quired of teachers and school ad ministrators if we are not willin to trust them to use that trainin as they best know how? Are w qualified to boss them?

ESTHER TYLER.

Drop Of Two Omaha-Norfolk Trains Is Approved

The Chicago and North Western Railroad Thursday was granted permission to discontinue trains No. 21 and No. 22 between Omaha and Norfolk.

The authority came from the State Railway Commission on a 2-1 vote.

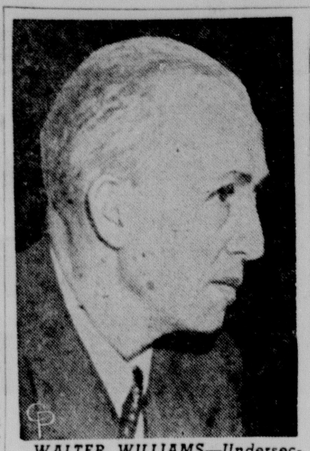

Commissioners Harold Palmer and Joe Brown cast the majority vote. Commissioner Richard Larson dissented.

The railroad claimed it was losing $30,000 annually operating the trains. The original hearing on the discontinuance application was held at Fremont June 4-5. The Commission left it up Thursday to the Railroad to decide the effective date of dropping the trains.

The line originally ran from Omaha to Winner, S. D., but that part between Norfolk and Winner was dropped some time ago by joint consent of the Nebraska and South Dakota transportation governing bodies.

In Omaha a Chicago & North Western spokesman said a date for discontinuance of the trains could not be set until the order is received and its provisions studied, the Associated Press said.

Points along the line whose passenger train service would be affected by discontinuance of Nos. 21 and 22 include Fremont, Hooper, Scribner, West Point, Beemer, Wisner, Pilger, Stanton, Norfolk and Elkhorn.

Treble Damages Pajd In Price Ceiling Case

In an out-of-court settlement, the Northwestern Metal Company, Inc., 900 T street, Lincoln, has paid treble damages of $4,678.53 for selling copper and aluminum scrap at prices higher than OPS ceilings, the Omaha District Office of Price Stabilization reported Thursday.

An OPS audit of the company's books showed overcharges of $1,428.55 for sales of copper scrap and $130.96 for sales of aluminum scrap the OPS said.

A suit against the Lincoln firm was filed by the government last July. The suit was dismissed Wednesday by the Lincoln Division of U.S. District Court.

Judge Rules Against Civilian Policeman

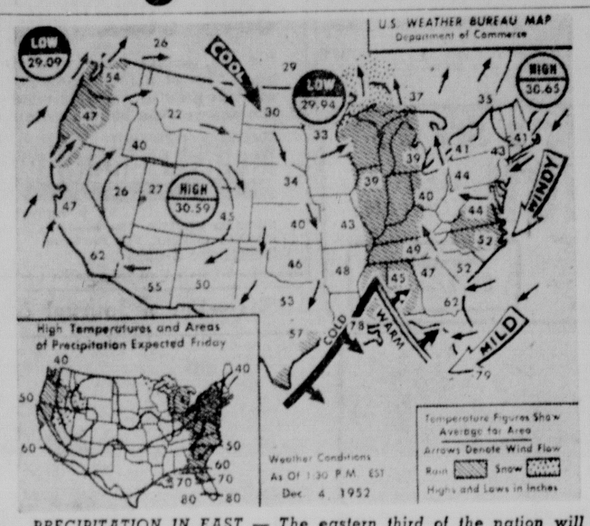

OMAHA (AP) — County Judge Robert R. Troyer held Thursday that a civilian policeman had no business chasing a car which allegedly passed him at high speed.

Judge Troyer awarded a $170 judgment against the policeman in County Court and commented he wondered why there had been no prosecution of him.

The civilian policeman, Newton Knight testified that he was driving home after night duty as an auxiliary policeman during the floods he chased Robert J. Estabrook after Estabrook passed him at high speed.

Estabrook said the auxiliary policeman, whose car carried no police insignia, tried several times to force him to the curb and he eventually lost control of his car and went into the ditch. He said Knight then cursed him and threatened him with a small ball bat.

Cost of repairing and towing the car which Estabrook, a chauffer, was driving, was $170.

Anti-Diversion Group Formed To Fight Proposed Legislation

SHELTON, Neb. (AP)—A new "anti-diversion" organization has been formed here to fight proposed legislation which would permit diversion of Platte River waters to the table lands south of the Platte.

Gordon H. Robins of Grand Island, president of the new association, said it is made up of pump irrigators "who can't afford to take a chance of having their water supply depleted by diversion."

The new organization, to be known as the Platte Pump Irrigators and Water Users Association, was perfected at a meeting in Shelton which drew about 50 well owners coming from as far east as Clarks and west to Dawson County.

Their first move, Robins said, will be to send a delegation to Omaha Friday to attend a meeting of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce Irrigation Committee at which outstate interests will be present.

The association also plans to hold a series of meetings up and down the valley between now and the opening of the 1953 legislature. Particular target of their drive will be the water diversion proposal of the Tri-County public power and irrigation district, which would leave the priority for water in the Platte valley but would permit diversion of such water as was not needed there.

Besides Robins other officers of the new association are: Art Holmberg, Shelton, chairman of the Buffalo County board, vice president; Howard Feehan, Central City attorney, secretary-treasurer; and directors; Elmer Petersen, Grand Island; Elmer Riesland, Wood River; Fred Wallace, Kearney; Walter Sheen, Odessa; and Arthur C. Johnson, Kearney.

Peterson Asks Study Of State, Federal Powers

CHICAGO — Governor Val Peterson proposed Thursday that Congress authorize a study to find out what functions and powers state and federal governments should have.

Speaking in Chicago to the Council of State Governments Peterson said the climate of American opinion has shifted toward strengthening state and local government.

"In the era now closing," he said, "the federal government moved into field after field of taxation traditionally that of the states. The opportunity now affords itself to return these areas to the states."

Peterson, president of the Council said if such a study were established, the "great role" belonging "historically" to the states would be reconfirmed.

However, Peterson said responsibilities of the two sphers of government "inevitably and rightly" overlaps. But each he said, has it primary field of duty.

Switching to other topics, Peterson reported all states have continued to increase appropriations to education and praised progress in treatment of the mentally ill.

The continued rise in teachers' pay, he said, has been due to increased state aid to education. Yet he noted that salary increases have only offset inflationary effects.

Peterson said that the major area of advance states have made in the last few years has been in the treatment of the mentally ill. they have become hospitals—to Mental institutions used to be places of custody. Now, he said, treat those with mental disease.

Osceola Hospital Still Looking For Replacement Staff

OSCEOLA, Neb. (INS)—The directors of St. Francis Hospital at Osceola still are loking for a staff to replace the Bernadine Sisters who have announced they will no longer operate the hospital after January 1.

The Hospital, operated by the sisters since 1944, is the only blood bank in Polk County and has extensive laboratory facilities.

The Bernadine Sisters announced on November 17 that they had been instructed by their superiors to cease operations at the Osceola hospital because a shortage of personnel had made their services necessary elsewhere.

The hospital is a remodeled house with a 16-bed capacity. There are six sisters on the staff at present.

Texas Firm Given $4 Million Work At Hastings Depot

GREAT LAKES, Ill. (AP)—The Maxey and Leftwich Construction Co. of Lubbock, Tex., has been awarded a $4,198,000 contract for additional storage facilities at the Hastings, Neb., Naval Ammunition Depot.

Capt. Henry C. Shaid, public works officer of the 9th Naval District at Great Lakes, said plans call for the construction of six inert warehouses, 48 ammunition magazines, four fuse and detonation magazines and the necessary railroad, road, fences and fire protection and alarm systems.

It will take two years to complete the work, he said.

The same firm was awarded a $9,986,990 contract for construction work at Hastings last April. It is 40 per cent completed.

4-H Youths Homebound From Chicago Trip

Nebraskans Second In Fun Contest

CHICAGO—Nebraska's 29 4-H delegates to National Club Congress will be homebound Friday after a week here of attending entertainment and educational events.

The 4-Hers agreed that they had the "time of our lives" in being feted by various commercial organizations which sponsored their trip. Following the various luncheons and parties held for them, the youths thrilled to such top-flight entertainers as Wayne King and his orchestra and the Purdue University Glee Club. They spent their concluding day touring Chicago, attending the annual national 4-H club banquet and a farewell party.

On Wednesday they were guests at the International Livestock Exposition, attending the matinee horse show. Then they were guests at a box supper in the international arena.

One of the highlights for the Nebraska 4-Hers was an event called "The Share the Fun Breakfast," where three boys from Saline County, Norman Cizek, Jerry Fuhrman and Ken Vosika, were part of the entertainment. Calling themselves the Saline County Trumpeteers, they were received enthusiastically by 4-Hers, leaders and National Club Congress officials who attended the breakfast. The youths won second in the state's Share the Fun Contest. Special guests at the event was a group from Burt County, who presented the winning state skit, "Dance Me Loose."

Felt Like Celebrities

Many of the 4-Hers said they felt "like celebrities must feel." They referred to the corps of newspaper and radiomen who covered National Club Congress. The boys and girls had microphones shoved under their noses for radio transcriptions and many felt the atmosphere grow warm from the heat of flash bulbs on press cameras.

Although this will be the last year in 4-H for many of the Nebraska clubbers, they still have hopes of winning another trip to National Club Congress.

If they come to the Windy City again it will be under a new awards program just announced. Known as the National 4-H Alumni Recognition Program, it will pay tribute to representative former 4-Hers whose records of good citizenship are traceable, at least in part, to their adherence of the ideals and principles of 4-H club work.

Durkin Places Talk With Taft High On List

NEW YORK (AP)—Martin P. Durkin, President-elect Eisenhower's choice as secretary of labor, said Thursday one of his first tasks in office will be to arrange a conference between Sen. Robert A. Taft and labor leaders to discuss Taft-Hartley labor law changes.

Taft only this week termed Eisenhower's selection of Durkin for the labor post as "incredible."

Durkin, an AFL official and a Democrat, supported Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois in the latter's presidential campaign against Eisenhower.

Durkin stated in a news conference in Eisenhower's Hotel Comodore headquarters his hope that the Taft-labor conference could be held to see what amendments could be agreed upon.

No Obstacle

To a question form newsmen whether Taft's statement concerning him might be an obstacle to such a conference, Durkin replied: "I don't think so."

Durkin, who has said that Taft-Hartley Law should be amended, reiterated that Taft's statement contained "no personal attack on me."

He said he would endeavor to bring about the conference to discuss Taft-Hartley changes "as soon as I can" but that he did not feel free to do it until he assumes his office.

South Korea Balks At New U.N. Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—South Korea turned down Thursday an Indian compromise proposal for ending the Korean War as the President of the U. N. Assembly wrote an appeal to the Communists to accept it.

Y. T. Byun, foreign minister of the U. N.-sponsored Republic of Korea, announced here that his government could not accept the Indian resolution, approved Wednesday by 54 of the 60 U. N. members.

Pyun objected to the heart of the plan, which is a provision for sending thousands of North Korean war prisoners to a demilitarized zone from which they would be repatriated by a U. N. commission.

Liberated Koreans

Pyun said his government regarded the prisoners as liberated Koreans. Those who desired to remain in the South should be liberated now, he added. The others are Communists, he said, but they still are Koreans and are not alien prisoners of war.

He said it would reflect on Korea's sovereignty to send them to the demilitarized zone, even temporarily.

Lester B. Pearson, president of the Assembly, told a news conference he was writing a letter to go along with the Assembly's resolution. This letter would explain the background of the resolution and would end with an appeal to Peiping and Pyongyang to accept it.

Pearson indicated he would prefer to have an envoy from some government stationed in Peiping deliver the resolution and the letter. He said he thought this method would be better than sending a cable to Communist China.

Omaha Is Featured City In Resources Division Magazine

Omaha is the featured city in the December issue of the Nebraska Resources Division publication, "Nebraska on the March," off the press Thursday. The story says wholesale sales amounted to $1,613,021,000 in 1951. Retail sales amounted to $313,779,000, and bank clearings totalled $8,084,000 (B) M

Cattle and hog receipts at Omaha's stockyards totalled 5,798,000 in animals in 1951, and the 18 terminal elevators received 102,067,771 bushels of grain.

More than 500 manufacturing establishments employ more than 30,000 persons.

Fourteen packing plants process more than $350,000,000 worth of meat annually, and Omaha claims title as the nation's No. 1 butter center.

Mother, 3 Children Die In Car Crash; Believed Deliberate

SUNNYVALE, Calif. (INS) — A woman and her three small children were killed Thursday when a Southern Pacific train smashed into their car at a Sunnyvale crossing and the coroner's office in San Jose said there were indications she deliberately drove into the path of the train.

The victims were Mrs. Jack J. Wilson, 33, wife of a commercial artist employed in San Jose but living in Sunnyvale; her son, Johnny, 10, and two daughters, Sedora, 9, and Cirica, 7.

A note found in the woman's purse along with two religious medals said:

"Dear Jack: I'm in the basement. I had to do it. There are letters in my purse and in the drawer of my room."

The coroner's office said the note indicated she had planned to kill herself in the basement of the family home but later adopted the plan of killing herself and the children by driving in front of the train.

The coroner's office said witnesses reported that Mrs. Wilson halted her car at the crossing until the warning signal started and then drove onto the crossing in front of the Southern Pacific Daylight Limited when it was only three car lengths away.

Rites Monday For Maj. Knudtson, Crash Victim

Funeral services for Maj. Franklin L. Knudtson, 35, 1415 D, Air Force reserve officer who died in a bomber crash in England Nov. 6, will be at 2 p.m. Monday at St. Paul's Evangelical & Reformed Church.

Major Knudtson

The Rev. Arthur C. Crisp will officiate. Ed Boehmer will sing, accompanied by Mrs. A. L. Unger at the organ.

Burial with full military honors will be in Lincoln Memorial Park, with the Offutt Field Air Base (Omaha) Bugle Corps and firing squad participating.

Honorary pallbearers will include representatives of the 49th Bomber Squadron, Hunter AFB, Savannah, Ga., to which Major Knudtson was attached when he was killed in a crash of his B-50 four-engined bomber near Dunmow, England.

Other honorary pallbearers will be Lt. Col. LeRoy English, Carswell AFB, Ft. Worth, Tex., and representatives from Offutt AFB, Omaha.

Services for the Lincoln High School graduate and former University of Nebraska student have been delayed, pending Mrs. Knudtson's release from a local hospital where she gave birth to a daughter Nov. 20. The body of the deceased arrived here from England on Nov. 21st.

Born at Wilmington, Del., June 1, 1917 Major Knudtson came to Lincoln with his parents. He attended the University of Nebraska until 1942, then enlisted in the Air Force.

While spending 32 months in the South Pacific, Major Knudtson, as group navigator, planned and was in the lead plane on the first paratroop drop on Corregidor, fortified island in Manila Bay, Philippines

He returned to the U. S. in Sept. 7, 1945, later entering the active reserve. He served as training officer, bombardier, and radar operator and trained at bases in Ft. Worth, Tex., Sacramento, Calif., Rosewell, N. M. Savannah, Ga., and Dayton, O.

It was while participating in a training flight out of Hunter AFB, Savannah, that Major Knudtson was killed. Nine other airmen including a Sidney, Neb., man died in the crash. The Major was to have returned from England in late November.

Suriving are his wife, the former Ada LaVerna Gerlach; three daughters, Lorraine, four, Diane, one, and Karen Sue, two weeks, all at home; his father, Edward G. Knudtson of Lincoln; a sister, Mrs. Grace H. Gardner of Oakland, Calif., a brother, Orvill F., of Denver; and two nephews.

Permits For School Buildings Held Up By Fee Discussion

Building permits for school building construction estimated to cost $345,878 are being held up by Building Inspector Ed Vorhees.

The Board of Education has objected to the payment of the customary $2 fee on each $1,000 of construction cost. While the city intends to give the board some relief, Vorhees said he is unable to give the needed permits as long as an ordinance exists demanding the payment of the fees.

The board has permit applications on file for erection of the Hawthorne school addition estimated to cost $112,000 and the new Merle Beatie school at 19th and Calvert estimated to cost $233,878.

The City Council has tabled as unsatisfactory an ordinance calling for a sliding fee schedule which would cut permit fees in half on major constructions, those costing in excess of $100,000. City Attorney C. Russell Mattson and Board Attorney Willis Hecht are now working on another solution to the problem.

Business Zone Issue Back To Council With No Action Taken

The Strauss Bros. application for local business zoning between 61st and 63rd at Knox has been sent back to the City Council without recommendation from the Zoning Board of Appeals.

The Board action was based on two facts. Board Chairman Don Dixon has applied for local business at 59th and Adams, just three blocks from the Strauss location, so the Board has taken no action on either application.

Also, Board Member Cobe Venner stated that the issue involved was more one of Council policy rather than zoning. He based that reasoning on the fact that the Board of Education has protested both applications because they are too close to Northeast High School property.

To Council Monday

A group of residents in the area have also protested the change to local business in the area. Both the Dixon and Strauss applications will be before the City Council Monday.

Other zoning applications and the Board's action are:

L. N. Farner, local business to industrial zoning at 1035-45 No. 35th to permit operation of a printing and stereotyping plant. Application denied and a one year permit in local business granted.

V. G. Schmieding, residence A to residence B zoning at 1200 No. 33rd, denied.

John Mohrhoff, permit to operate a concrete products plant on the north side of O at 70th, denied.

Mrs. George B. Kirksey, permit to operate a child care center at 601 No. 28th, approved.

Telephone Directories Distributed By Saturday

Distribution of the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Co. new telephone directories is expected to be completed by Saturday.

The new directory, the largest to be published by the company, contains 320 pages, 20 more than the last issue. There are 22,000 new or changed listings.

The numbers for 48,665 telephones are listed.

A major change is the separate listing of small exchanges—Huskerville, Malcolm, Waverly, Davey, Denton, Raymond, Greenwood and Pleasant Dale.

This is done to conform to the national pattern in the long distance dialing system.

If all of the new directories—64,000 of them—were placed on top of each other, they would make a stack more than five times higher than the Statehouse.

The directories were printed by The Journal-Star Printing Co.

Sedlacek Case Argued Before Supreme Court

Appeal of Charles Sedlacek of Crete from the quashing of a writ of habeas corpus by the Lancaster County District court after he had been sentenced to 10 years in the state penitentiary on burglary charges was argued before the Supreme court Thursday.

He contended that the original sentence was null and void by reason of his becoming insane between the time he was convicted and sentence was pronounced. His attorneys argued that if given a hearing it would be proven that he became insane at that time.

The Supreme court in a previous appeal by Sedlacek ruled that a person convicted and sentenced cannot by habeas corpus collaterally attack the conviction upon the ground that he was insane at the time.

AF Sergeant Says Blonde Christine Is His Girl Friend

U. S. AIR BASE, Bentwater, Eng. (AP)—A U. S. Air Force sergeant said Thursday Christine (ex-George) Jorgensen of the Bronx, New York, whose sex has been changed from male to female by an operation, is his girl friend.

Staff Sgt. Bill Calhoun, 24, of Eveeman, Tex., said he would not have disclosed his secret if a buddy had not noticed a picture of the sergeant's blonde pinup girl above Calhoun's barracks bed.

Calhoun said he met Christine, 26, on a leave in Copenhagen, Denmark, last spring.

He told a reporter:

"When I met her she was a girl, and, as far as I am concerned, she's a girl now. She's got a personality that's hard to beat, the best looks, best clothes, best features, and best body of any girl I ever met."

Christine, who once served a tour of duty as George Jorgensen in the U. S. Army, underwent the operation which changed her sex in Denmark. Calhoun said she had mentioned an operation to him but was never specific about it.

Dump Truck Rate Hike Opposition Is Heard

A two-day hearing was concluded Thursday before the state railway commission on the application of Nebraska Dump Truck Operators association for an increase in rates.

Contractors countered the evidence given by the association in behalf of an increase with testimony of other operators that the present rates are adequate. The contractors testified it would add materially to construction costs, especially highways.

Some contractors said they would operate their own trucks if the increase is granted. The operators showed that railroads have already been granted an increase in rates for hauling sand and gravel.

Britt Plans Ton-Mile Tax, Revenue Reallocation Bills

Sen.-elect Howard Britt of Lincoln plans to introduce two road revenue measures to the 1953 Legislature.

Britt said one will be a weight-distance or "ton-mile" levy on heavy trucks and busses to provide additional funds for state highway construction and maintenance.

The second will propose a reallocation of the revenue from the present five-cents-a-gallon state gasoline tax.

Britt would increase the state's share of the five-cent tax to three and a half cents. The other cent and a half would go to the counties, with a half cent earmarked for rural mail routes.

The state now gets two and a half cents and the counties two and a half cents, with a full cent of the county's share earmarked for gravelling mail routes.

Britt predicts his proposals together would increase funds available for state highway construction by $7 million or $8 million a year, not counting federal funds.

"When matched with federal funds, a sound basis is established for a 10 to 20-year program," he commented.

"I take the position that the large majority of the motorists and their families, which means the majority of citizens in Nebraska, already pay in gas tax and car license sufficient to buy but do not get highways adequate for the use of their automobiles," Britt continued.

He contends the present plight of Nebraska highways is due to two situations: The steady growth of heavy truck and bus traffic, creating need for wider, heavier and therefore costlier roadbeds than those needed for passenger cars only; and the present practice of assigning to the counties approximately half of the gas tax receipts, although probably less than one-fourth of these receipts comes from traffic on county roads.

"The reallocation measure as offered will bring this into line. It will put the secondary roads partially on a local self-help basis."

THE STAR GOES CALLING: To The 'Hanging Of The Greens'

An annual custom of the YWCA clubs and organizations in Lincoln is the "Hanging of the Greens" ceremony which traditionally opens the holiday season of Christmas programs and parties.

On Tuesday evening, The Star attended the Yule program of YWCA members on the University of Nebraska campus when the large tree (above at left) standing in the court of Ellen Smith hall was decorated for the festivities under the direction of Miss Phyl Sherman.

At the Havelock YW center this holiday season a featured display is the nativity scene (second from left) which was arranged by members of the Havelock Garden Lovers club. Mrs. R. H. Czapanskiy and Mrs. J. H. Hockensmith are pictured as they added the finishing touches to the exhibit.

Thursday afternoon, members of the YW Ladies Day Out club met to decorate the lounge at the YWCA. Using an Australian theme of Yuletide traditions, club members complete the fireplace decor. In the third picture, from left to right, are Mrs. Dean Hamilton, Mrs. C. W. Mattox, Mrs. Harold Morgan and Mrs. Charles W. Mitchell.

Coeds at Nebraska Wesleyan university, Thursday, unpacked the tinsel and sparkling ornaments which will decorate the tree and cedar boughs in the lounge of Johnson hall for the holiday season. Pictured above are Miss Janet Fullriede of Nebraska City, Miss Gayle Collins of St. Edward (standing), and Miss Joyce Westerhoff of Seward.

PTA Urges Legislation

At a meeting of the board of management of the Nebraska Congress of Parents and Teachers, Thursday, at the Lincoln hotel, the members voted to support the establishment of a state board of health, and to encourage legislation which will discontinue granting third grade elementary certificates to Normal trainees and students, to require, instead, that all teachers shall have a minimum of two years college training by 1956.

The board also recommended that school lands be retained by the state in trust as a heritage for Nebraska children; that state laws and local ordinances in regard to the sale of objectionable literature be improved and enforced; and that laws governing penalties for venders of illegal narcotics be in accordance with national laws and that maximum penalties be applied in all cases involving minors.

Plans were discussed for a special workshop, to be held in late winter, for instructors in the twenty-two colleges offering teacher training in the state.

Mrs. Gene Allen of Lincoln, was appointed chairman of a nominating committee to select officer candidates for the April 22 and 23 convention to be held in Lincoln. Members of the committee include: Mrs. Andrew Nelson, Omaha; Mrs. R. E. Dooley, Fremont; Mrs. Leslie Jackson, Beatrice; and Mrs. Harvard Morehead, Omaha.

Appointed to nominate state committee chairmen were: Mrs. Gordon Lozier and Mrs. Victor Hass, Omaha; Mrs. Rex Butler, Lincoln; Mrs. William Haselett, Scottsbluff; and Mrs. Ralph Hammond, Bushnell.

At a meeting of the executive board, Mrs. Lowell Wilks of Scottsbluff, Mrs. Rex Butler and Mrs. Herman Siefkes, both of Lincoln, were named co-chairmen for the spring convention, and appointed state chairman of scholarship was Mrs. Gordon Lozier of Omaha. Mrs. J. G. Schmidt and Mrs. P. S. Carter of Omaha were appointed to write a history of Mrs. A. E. Hanneman's, the state president, administration.

PTA Council

The Lincoln Council of Parents and Teachers entertained at a Christmas tea Thursday afternoon following the December meeting of the council. Mrs. Herman Siefkes, council president, presided at the tea table, and hostesses were Mrs. William Bowers, Mrs. C. L. Swanson, Mrs. A. C. Wehr and Mrs. L. J. Dorman.

Guests for the afternoon were the magazine chairmen of the local PTA units, and a reading of, "The Real Meaning of Christmas," was given by Mrs. Howard Deems, character education chairman.

Announcement was made of the annual holiday party for homebound pupils to be held at 2 o'clock, Tuesday, December 16, in room 100 of the Board of Education building. The following chairmen gave reports: Mrs. W. N. Hohenstein, civil defense; Mrs. John Winter, health; Mrs. Charles Segabiano, Mothersingers; Mrs. Eber Tice, international relations; and Mrs. Art Kulla, membership.

Bridal Party Announced

Miss Joan Young, whose marriage to Irving Weston will be an event of December 13, at the First Methodist church at 8 o'clock, is announcing the members of her bridal party this morning.

Mrs. Joseph McKee will be the matron of honor with Miss Joan Spencer, Miss Elizabeth Schleiger, Miss Aubyn Ritter, Tilden, and Mrs. Wayne Weigert as bridesmaids. The junior bridesmaid will be Miss Marilyn Kay Young, sister of the bride, and Miss LaVonne Weston and Miss Janice Weston of Gibbon, sisters of the bridegroom, will light the candles.

Joseph McKee will serve Mr. Weston as best man, and the ushers include Richard Perry, Gibbon, Thomas Wallace, Omaha, and Donald Folsom and Robert Carlson of Waverly.

On Friday evening, December 12, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence P. Weston will entertain at a prenuptial dinner in courtesy to their son and his fiancee.

An Eye On The Calendar

DECIDED THIS morning that it was about time we learned when some of the away-at-school crowd would be coming into port for the Christmas holidays—and high time we gave it a thought, too, because some of the young set will be keeping one eye on the calendar while finishing last minute class work, and then will be tagging their luggage—ready for the trek homeward.

* * *

JUST A SHADE past mid-December seems to be the popular arrival time for most of the school set—The Shattuck school (Faribault, Minn.) sixsome comes home on December 19—and in the group will be Jack Neely, Philip Morgan, Fred Teal, Bob Neely, Sam Olson and Buddy (Frank) Sidles.

* * *

ALSO ARRIVING home on Friday, December 19, will be Miss Daisy DuTeau and Miss Sharon Sidles, both of whom are attending Mount Vernon school, Washington, D. C.

* * *

AND ABOUT THE same time the welcome mat will be dusted off for Jamie Seacrest who will be returning from Emerson school, Exeter, N. H.

* * *

A BIT CLOSER home are Kitty Lilly and Miss Mary Ruth Knorr—The brunette Miss Lilly returns from St. Mary's academy, South Bend, Ind., on December 19—and arriving on the same train will be Miss Knorr who is a freshman at St. Mary's college at South Bend.

AND WE know that although Woody Haecker and Bob Ireland are just back at Lake Forest academy, Lake Forest, Ill., following Thanksgiving vacation, they already are counting the days until December 19 when they will be returning home for Christmas.

* * *

WE DISCOVERED that there are those who have plans to spend Christmas elsewhere—Mrs. Burton Whitmore, and her daughter, Miss Mary Whitmore, for instance, will leave December 17 for Millsboro, Del., where they will be the holiday guests of Mrs. Whitmore's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Carter.

Incidentally, in the absence of Mrs. Whitmore and her daughter their home is to be occupied by Mrs. Florence Walt, dean of women at Doane college.

* * *

WONDERED IF Miss Mary Doyle would be coming home for the holidays—Miss Doyle, it seems, still is on the indefinite list—but her brother, David Doyle, who is stationed at the Pawtuxent navy air base, Maryland, knows for sure he will be back in Lincoln for Christmas.

* * *

AND SPEAKING of people who will be in Lincoln for Christmas—Just heard that Roger Stewart is out of the navy—is now a full-fledged civilian, and is on his way home to spend the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Don Stewart.

* * *

ALSO LEARNED that Miss Vernette Adams of Oakland, Calif., will arrive on December 21, to be the holiday house guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Wyman Kenagy.

Truman Accepts Cox Resignation As Wage Board Chairman

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman Thursday night accepted the resignation of Archibald Cox as chairman of the Wage Stabilization Board and named Charles C. Killingsworth to replace him.

Archibald Cox

Cox quit in protest against Truman's decision to overrule the board in the soft coal wage increase case. Truman Truman ordered approval of the full $1.90 a day increase negotiated by John L. Lewis for his United Mine Workers. The board had voted against any increase beyond $1.50 a day, on the ground it would be inflationary.

Killingsworth, the new board chairman, is a 35-year-old economics professor from Michigan State College. He had been vice chairman.

Despite the speedy shift in chairmen, the wage board was unable to function because of a boycott by its six industry members, who had sided with Cox and the five other public members in the mine wage dispute.

The industry members called a meeting for Friday at which they may decide whether to follow Cox's lead and resign. Some of them at least were believed certain to pull out. One told a reporter the President's action made a "mockery" of the board's work.

The six labor members of the three-sided board, although outwardly pleased that Lewis' miners are going to get the full increase, were unhappy that the WSB was overruled. They themselves had voted for the full $1.90, but the public-industry majority cut the raise back to $1.50.

The President said failure to approve the full $1.90 would probably bring on a coal strike which would confront President-elect Eisenhower with a "national emergency" on the very day he takes office. Truman said he wanted to present Eisenhower with a smoothly functioning economic machine.

But Cox obviously considered the President's action a slap in the face. He and some other WSB members had said that to grant more than $1.50 would "irreparably" damage the whole stabilization program.

Cox is a 40-year-old Harvard law professor.

The other public members of WSB said they would not resign, although they were "disappointed" with the Truman action.

The board cannot function again until its industry members, most of whom were enroute back from a New York meeting, chart a course of action.

Later Thursday, the government approved the hard coal operators' contract which calls for about a $1.90 daily wage boost for anthracite miners.

Eisenhower Delegate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Truman administration—committed to keeping the stabilization program going until the Republicans take over—suggested Thursday that President-elect Eisenhower may want to send representatives to sit in on handling of wage-price controls.

Fremont Is Opening Test For 1952-53 Link Quint

By WAYNE PANTER
Star Sports Staff Member

LINCOLN High will be the lone school to unveil its 1952-53 cage edition on a local court tonight.

While Northeast is breaking the ice at Scottsbluff and College View is shedding its wraps at Wilber, the Links take to the Whittier hardwoods at 8:00 p.m. against graduation-weakened Fremont, last year's state Class A runnerup.

The Links, according to vet mentor Lyle Weyand, now beginning his twelfth season at the Red and Black helm, aren't anything to shout about. Not, at least, at this stage of the season.

"Right now," he opined over coffee Thursay afternoon, "there's a lack of something; call it team cohesiveness, maybe. But," he went on, partially dispelling the gloom, "given a half-dozen or so games they may turn into a presentable outfit."

The Links are on the slender side when it comes to returning talent. Of four returning letter winners—LeRoy Butherus, Don Erway, Bob Barnett and Ted King—only the first two named were starters last season.

Seven players were advanced from the reserves to round out the squad, along with one sophomore, Allen Graves, a six-foot, seven-inch 14-year-old.

Graves, while having good coordination for his age and height, will not start at center, but will back up Ernie (Bud) Hollibaugh, capable 6-3 ex-reserve pivot.

The two centers, along with Allen Lewis, a 6-2 junior, are the only squad members over the magic six-foot mark. Butherus, Barnett and Erway barely brush the standard.

Weyand named Hollibaugh as probable starter tonight, along with the four letter winners. Guards will be King (5-8) and Erway; Butherus and Barnett will be at the forwards. All except Hollibaugh are seniors.

Graves and John Beideck, 5-11 senior guard, head up the list of substitutes. Others are Ron Johnson, 5-7 senior guard; Bob Lee, 5-11 junior forward; Bernie Randolph, 5-11 junior forward, and Art Weaver, 5-11 junior guard.

Fremont, tonight's foe, has only one regular, John Morehouse, from last year's iron-man quint. And Morehouse, who sustained a broken leg during the past grid season, may not be at full speed.

Other Tiger lettermen reporting to Coach My Draemel are Bill Pelley, Mike Dallam, Bill Letzkus and Ernie Snyder.

Reserve squads of the two schools will clash at 6:30 p.m.

Four Starters Sure For CV Tilt Tonight

Coach Dick Short gave a definite nod to only four starters at College View's final drill Thursday afternoon prior to tonight's opener at Wilber.

Pivotman Al Schroeder, at 5-11 the tallest man on the squad, will open along with Guards Woody Oaks and Bill Thierstein. Louie Meinecke, the squad veteran, caught a bid at forward, with the remaining assignment shaping up as a three-way tussle.

Jack Porter (5-7), Dee Ehrlich (5-9) and Jim Edwards (5-10) will work to see who best can handle the job, Short said. All are juniors.

"We're not nearly as ready for our opener as we were last year, owing to a late start this winter. And we'll be handicapped by a lack of height which we hope will be offset somewhat by speed," Short said.

Wilber, hit heavily by graduation, is largely a question mark. Fourteen men will make the Saline County trip. In addition to those named above, they are: LeRoy Michaelis, Jim McCartney, Dwayne Selk, Marv Hoy, Gaylord Duff, Harland Mook and Jim Cunningham.

Harry Matthews Pulls Back Muscle

LONDON (AP)—Harry Matthews, Seattle light heavyweight who will fight Johnny Williams, British heavyweight champion in London Wednesday, pulled a muscle in his back Thursday during a sparring session.

Matthews left the ring after only one round but insisted there was nothing to worry about.

"I have done this before," he said. "It will be okay tomorrow."

Meat, Poultry Shoot

The Salt Valley Gun Club will sponsor a ham, bacon and poultry shoot Sunday, 1:30 p.m., at the club grounds between 14th and 27th streets north of Lincoln. There will be practice targets at all shoots.

The Firing Line

by Norris Anderson, SPORTS EDITOR, THE STAR

A Letter From Hungry Simon

(Charles "Hungry" Simon, the clown prince of baseball in these parts, wrote The Firing Line a letter that we are publishing today. Along with being a perennial favorite at midwest baseball banquets, Hungry is also one of Sherman Field's most loyal fans.)

DEAR NORRIE,

THE Last Throws of the Season by Old Hungry.

I'm sitting here cogitating and what I'm cogitating about is the deep freeze that the Philly A's put on the baseball fans of Lincoln, and while this is a very big chill indeed the fans can take it on account of they are gluttons for punishment and don't know when they are licked.

Hungry Simon

We hear from A-Que that the Western League wants baseball in Lincoln and will do everything to help. If Dec. 14 is the deadline for the fund-raising, let's all dig into our pockets and see what comes out. If we lose baseball here, those wise guys in Omaha would be laughing the next 50 years.

While some of these fans may catch a bad cold or maybe even pneumonia from the effects of this big chill, they are already looking around and about for a citizen or maybe twenty-five or thirty citizens who are willing and able to shower down a Cleveland apiece to keep a ball team in Lincoln.

In case you never heard of a Cleveland, it is a large size note known to the carriage trade as a G-note or a Grand and there is a picture of Grover Cleveland on one side. The only reason that I know this is account of my friend, Big Sam, once gave me a quick look at one of these works of art, and it is very beautiful indeed, as well as very hard to get hold of.

Now personally, I think that many of the fans will be willing to kick in, to keep from getting kicked out of the League. A little here and a little there. It all counts up. And while I'm writing this I'm thinking of an old manager who did more to keep baseball alive in Lincoln than anyone I know. A little old guy who managed amateur teams around Lincoln for twenty two years, and who, if you drop in on him down on O Street, where he is dispensing suds, will play you a fast six innings on how he leased a piece of ground from the railroad company for a playing field for his team, or how he and one of his catchers—Paul Feaster—developed these kids, such as Lefty Lebsock, Paul Amen and many, many others, and also about a kid named Joe (Rosy) Rosenberg, who won a tournament for him at Kearney. And then he'll slip you in a fast one; of the biggest thorn in his side—a kid pitcher, who his team never could beat, and who, after his arm goes dead, starts catching them on third. He is one guy that I am going to stay away from on account he is Inspector Gene Masters, who is still catching them and throwing them in the clink and this is no place for a respectable guy like me to be.

And so, Norrie, for the faith that old guys like Ike Leath had for the future of our National pastime I think that an effort should be made to keep Lincoln on the Baseball Map.

So let's all keep an eye on that calendar and see what can be done before Dec. 14. This patient is really worth saving.

YOUR FRIEND,
HUNGRY SIMON

NSAA Votes To Extend Prep Cage Slates

. . . Meet Again Today

One new proposal was adopted and another abolished Thursday night during the opening session of the annual meeting of the Nebraska Schools Activities Association's Representative Assembly.

With 50 positive votes cast against two negative, the Assembly voted to revise the sixteen-game basketball game limitation rule. Under the new setup, a team is allowed 16 games plus one tournament other than the state sponsored meets. Also, if a team participates in more than the one tourney, its 16-game schedule will be cut one game for the additional tournament.

Failing to get a majority vote of the assembly was the proposal to revise the five-quarter basketball participation limitation. Sought by the small schools that suffer a man-power shortage, the revision was voted down 35-16.

The Assembly convenes again at 9 a.m. today with two major problems yet to tackle.

They are the proposals for reconsideration of the 19-year age limit rule and the reclassification of schools for basketball tournament participation.

Lincoln Grid Stars Honored By Sertoma

The value of sportsmanship and gentlemanly conduct was emphasized by Bob Davis, Nebraska backfield coach, at the annual Sertoma Club banquet Thursday noon honoring local high school athletes.

Davis went on to emphasize "the need for the cream of the Nebraska high school crop at the University of Nebraska."

Three athletes from each Lincoln school were honored, two for excellence in football and the other for scholarship. The banquet was held at the chamber of commerce.

Dr. Walter Militzer of the university athletic board introduced the honored players. They were:

Cathedral
Football—Denny Costin, John Fagan.
Scholarship—David Kubitschek.

College View
Football—Glenn Hoy, Richard Oaks.
Scholarship—Roger Humann.

Lincoln High
Football—Le Roy Butherus, Ted King.
Scholarship—Bob Barnett.

Northeast
Football—Ron Steele, Junior Thomas.
Scholarship—Bob Cook.

Charles Sayre, president of Sertoma, was toastmaster. Mayor Vic Anderson and Dr. Steven N. Watkins, superintendent of schools, spoke briefly.

Lincoln Business Head Due Arrive Here Today

LINCOLN'S baseball scene today awaited the arrival of O. W. "Bill" Hays, newly-appointed business manager of the 1953 Sherman Field entry.

Hays, who was business manager of Buffalo, N. Y., of the International League in 1952, was expected to arrive in Lincoln Friday.

"There will be no announcements until Mr. Hays arrives," said President A. Q. Schimmel of the Lincoln Civic Baseball Association, on his arrival Thursday from the minor league meetings at Phoenix, Ariz.

The baseball association and Mr. Hays will attempt to raise $25,000 among local fans before a Western League meeting is scheduled for Lincoln, Dec. 14.

If Lincoln raises the money by then, the Western League will loan $15,000 more to assure an independent operation at Sherman Field in 1953.

Seven players have been optioned to Lincoln from major league teams to start the operation.

The Western League is anxious to keep Lincoln and thus remain an eight-team circuit. If Lincoln is dropped, there is a possibility that Wichita may be dropped to make the league a six-team nit.

"We want to keep eight teams if humanly possible," said Harold George, league secretary.

Dutch Meyer Quits At TCU

FT. WORTH, Tex. (AP) — L. R. (Dutch) Meyer quit Thursday as head football coach at Texas Christain University after 19 years in the job. He will be succeeded by his chief assistant, Abe Martin.

The announcement that Meyer was stepping down as football coach immediately was made by Dr. M. E. Sadler, president of Texas Christain.

Meyer's resignation was not entirely unexpected. For several years he said he had been thinking of retiring as a coach.

Red Wings' Norris Dies In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—James Norris, 73, owner of the Detroit Red Wings Hockey team, died Thursday in Passavant Hospital.

Norris, prominent for many years in hockey, was president of the Norris Grain Company, a Chicago brokerage firm.

His son, James D. Norris, is president of the International Boxing Club.

Bolde Hits 25 Points As 44-Year-Old Mark Falls

By DON BRYANT
Star Sports Staff Member

YORK College, wild horses and especially Coach John Grayson couldn't stop Nebraska Wesleyan Thursday night as the Plainsmen crushed the Panthers, 105-73.

It was the second 100-point-cage game of the week here—the Phillips Oilers pulled the trick earlier—and the basket blitzkrieg sent hard-working Fred Hess, the Wesleyan publicist, to the achives.

Few, if any, of the screaming fans realized it, but when Big Don Boldebuck managed a tip-in and pushed the Plainsman totaled to 93, a new school record for point scored was established. And ironically, it was against the same York Panthers in 1908 that Wesleyan registered 91 tallies, the previous high. York only scored 12 points in that game, however.

The 178-point total also erased the previous high-total mark, set in 1950 when Chadron defeated the Plainsmen, 84-83, in three overtimes.

Try as he might, Grayson couldn't halt his frenzied legions.

He cleared the bench from the outset and his third-stringers carried the score over the century mark in the final quarter.

There was only one apparent difference in the three combinations that shared in the rout. That was the fact that the third team saw the most service. It seemed that almost everything the action-hungry subs threw at the bucket zipped in and York's attempts at getting the ball gave Wesleyan 10 free throws in the final quarter to boost the total.

Boldebuck, a worker-deluxe, copped high point honors with 25 points, while York's Leon Frankamp dunked 22 for second-place laurels.

Grayson's charges let Bill Watkins score a free throw in the first minute of play, but Jim Lightbody countered with a jump shot a second later and the Plainsmen were off to the races. With Boldebuck hitting for eight before taking a rest and Lightbody matching him, the Methodists took a 23-17 first period lead.

The towering "Bolde" chipped in eight more in the second quarter before joining the bench brigade with about five minutes left in the half. Ex-Lincoln High cager Dick Jennings got six points in the second and the Plainsmen left the floor with a 50-30 lead at halftime.

Frankamp led the York cause in the first half with 10 points and Center Jack Kiser got seven.

Grayson substituted freely in the final half, but the Plainsmen wouldn't cool. When the buzzer ended the third quarter, the score was 81-48 and the fans—sniffing the magic 100—started to whoop it up. Their enthusiasm was contagious and the third-stringers, steaming like the first two units, presented their followers with the prize.

Boldebuck was only in for about two minutes in the final round—just long enough to break the record.

By any standard, the Wesleyan win was a team victory. Boldebuck played his heart out when he was in, taking rebounds by the bushel and blocking many shots on defense.

Vic Hoggins, playing with a painful shoulder injury, would take up where Boldebuck left off, hitting shots and scrapping furiously. Lightbody turned in his usual fine show, as did every boy who saw action.

For Mark Haight's crew it was a rough evening, but the Panthers never left the game. Frankamp, Kiser and Jim ... rt were the top scorers. And it's safe to say that it was a hustling group that pushed the Plainsmen to the record.

Globetrotters Play In Omaha Tonight

OMAHA—A true indication of the superlative playing ability of the fabulous Harlem Globetrotters, who feature the huge doubleheader at Ak-Sar-Ben Coliseum Friday night, is the success they have enjoyed in sweeping impressively the first three World Series of Basketball over the College All-Americans.

The Trotters, who play the Washington (D. C.) Generals in the second game with the Boston Whirlwinds taking on the Toledo Mercurys in the 8:15 opener, won the first World Series 11 games to 7, on a 9,130-mile tour embracing 17 cities

The 1951 series was captured by a 14-4 margin. Last April's World Series topped them all, however, as the Trotters triumphed over the potent collegians, 11 games to 5.

Overhauling THE NEWS

By WALLY DeBROWN

Well, the "experts" are bursting into print with the usual Fall crop of All-American football players . . . and we still think the chore of tabbing the top 11 gridsters is tougher than looking for fingerprints in a coal mine.

But that won't stop anyone . . . and one man's opinion is as good as another's. Still, skimming the top 11 (or even 22) from thousands of ball players is an assignment for a genius. Many lads who don't make the grade just didn't get the right publicity at the right time. It's impossible today to pick a real All-American team. Shucks, we're even having difficulty with ours.

An Appleton, Wis., fellow was arrested for financing his way through a conservation school by trapping muskrats out of season. He should have kept his trap shut.

Three-Ring Circus Staged By Baseball's Big Shots

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Baseball staged a three ring circus with sideshows Thursday.

It was the wildest day since Happy Chandler was fired at the St. Petersburg winter meetings.

Almost lost in the shuffle was the action of the minors in adopting a new bonus rule, banning recall of optioned players after July 13 except in emergency cases and continuing the present high school rule.

Detroit and the St. Louis Browns started the day with their fourth major swap in 10 months. The Tigers sent pitcher Virgil Trucks, center fielder Johnny Groth and pitcher Hal White to the Browns for outfielder Bob Nieman, catcher J. W. Porter and second baseman Owen Friend.

Ellis Ryan, president of the Cleveland Indians, flew home unexpectedly to attempt to iron out differences of opinion among members of the Tribe's official family. Ryan took off after a Cleveland paper printed a story of a serious breach between Ryan and Hank Greenberg, his general manager.

When Chicago and St. Louis refused to renew the American League reciprocal agreement on radio-TV rights, the six other clubs got together on a two-year basis. St. Louis had demanded either no television or a split of TV receipts on the road. The White Sox agreed.

As a result of the split, the six clubs signing the agreement may make arrangements to beam road games back home to fill in the gap left by the 22 days when St. Louis and Chicago will be in town.

The National League also discussed radio and TV without reaching any league-wide agreement. All telecasts will be made by mutual agreements between individual clubs.

Bill Veeck, president of the Browns, surprised the minor league delegates with a revolutionary proposal that would have forbidden major league clubs from signing any players without previous pro experience.

Under Veeck's plan, turned down by a voice vote, all first year minor league players would be eligible for unrestricted draft and would share in 25 per cent of their draft price.

Sen. Johnson Proposal To Lump Major-Minor Radio-TV Cash Okayed

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Baseball's minor leagues Thursday voted unanimously for a resolution to toss all money received by major and minor leagues for radio and television broadcasts outside their own territories into a trust fund.

The fund would be administered by a major-minor commitee which would distribute revenue to damaged clubs.

The resolution offered by Sen. Edwin C. Johnson, president of the Western League and chairman of the radio-TV committee, pointed out how broadcasts had affected declining minor league attendance.

Johnson declared "it is just and equitable that the minor league clubs suffering damage by reasons of such broadcasts should receive some measure of compensation . . ."

An original proposal by Johnson was withdrawn on the advice of legal experts. The Senator said he had been advised by the best legal authorities that his new resolution violated no anti-trust laws.

As this was only a resolution and not legislation, it will not necessarily be considered at the major league meetings. The unanimous vote, however, would indicate it had solid support from farm team operators.

Garden City, Kan., JC Bumps Fairbury, 44-34

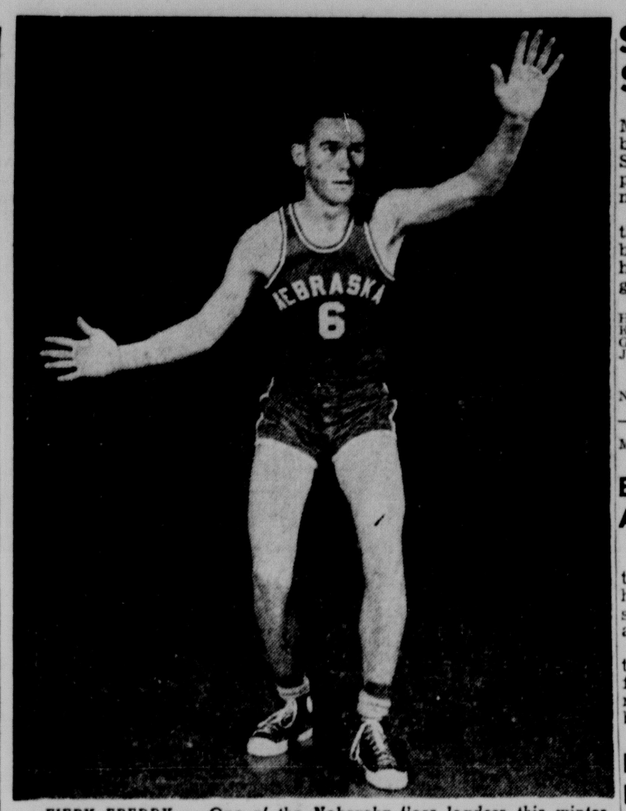

Lincoln Star Special

HUTCHINSON, Kan.—Fairbury (Neb.) Junior College was bounced from the first round of the Hutchinson Junior College Invitational tourney here Thursday night when a fourth-quarter rally by the Nebraskans fell short and Garden City, Kan., J. C. went on to win, 44-34.

In a slow tilt that saw Garden City holding leads of 8-7 and 12-10 at the quarter and halftime, Fairbury fell further in arears during the last half.

Trailing, 27-22, going into the final stanza, Fred Fisher whipped up a Fairbury rally that brought his club to within one point — 34-35—with two minutes left.

Garden City took command at that point to breeze in a winner. Bill Asinos ringed 15 points for the winners, while Fisher's seven tallies were high for Fairbury.

Five Big 7 Teams To Open On Home Courts Saturday

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Five Big Seven Conference basketball teams will open their basketball schedules on their home courts Saturday night.

The Kansas State Wildcats, who are being rated to replace the Kansas Jayhawks as conference kingpin, will open at Manhattan against the Drake Bulldogs.

Colorado will play Utah State, Oklahoma meets Iowa, Nebraska takes on South Dakota University and Iowa State goes against South Dakota State.

Nebraska hopes to move out of the cellar with Guard Joe Good, son of Coach Harry Good, in the key role.

Phog Allen's Kansas Jayhawks, NCAA champions last season, will start their season against Tulane in New Orleans Dec. 11. Missouri opens against Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., Dec. 13.

Coach Jack Gardner will have the biggest team ever fielded at Kansas State. The front line of Dick Knostman, 6-6, Jack Carby, 6-7, and Jesse Prisock, 6-5, should provide a powerful scoring unit.

Slim Bob Reiter, 6 foot 8½ inch sophomore post man, holds the key to Missouri's chances of coming through. Coach Sparky Stalcup has good team height and speed, but it will be the youngest team in the league.

Big 10 Coaches Ask Revision Of Spring Grid Practice Rule

CHICAGO (AP)—Big Ten football coaches and athletic directors Thursday called for more intensive spring football practice.

The proposal, that the present NCAA restriction of 20 practice sessions within a 30-day period be liberalized to permit a flat 30-day spring practice season, will go to the Big Ten faculty committee.

If the committee approves it, the flat 30-day season will be submitted for consideration next month in Washington at the NCAA convention.

A suggestion by the football coaches that the traveling squad limit be raised from 40 to 44 players was approved by the athletic directors. They also approved a suggestion by the coaches that the coin-tossing to decide the goals to be defended and the team to make the opening kickoff be done 20 minutes before the games.

The coin-flipping proposal, which must be submitted to the national football rules committee, was made to give offensive and defensive units more time to get ready for the start of play.

The football coaches and athletic directors postponed drafting of the 1955-56 Big Ten football schedule until a special meeting which is expected to be held in January.

Scheduling of conference games for 1955-56 was begun at the spring meeting in Ann Arbor, Mich., but the difficulty of working Michigan State into the conference requirements that each team play six games with conference rivals, two of them home games, during the season, bogged down the programming.

Emil Zatopek Sent To Red 'Peace' Meeting

Yankee Forces Complete For Blue-Gray Battle

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Yankee forces whipped together a powerful infantry squad Thursday in their campaign to stop the rampaging Rebels in the Dec. 27 Blue-Gray pigskin battle.

The Blues completed their 24-man roster with the signing of End Frank Wodziak and Tackle Robert Weddell of Illinois.

The annual skirmish between college all-stars from the North and South will pit the Yanks' potent running attack against air-minded Southerners.

Last year the Confederates won 20-14 for their third straight victory and their ninth of the series. The North has won four.

In the Blue backfield this time are such stars as Ed Timmerman and Wayne Benson of Michigan State, Detroit's Ted Marchibroda and Lou D' Achille, quick thinking signal caller from Indiana.

The South features passing aces Hal Ledyard of Chattanooga, Ed Mioduszewski of William and Mary, Dudley Spence of Auburn and Ray Graves of Texas A & M.

Northern coaches are Dick Harlow of Harvard, Pip Engel of Penn State and Burt Ingwersen of Illinois. On the Gray coaching staff are Frank Howard of Clemson, Ray George of Texas A & M and Murray Warmath of Mississippi State.

The North squad:

Ends—Russ Sandblom, Rutgers; Joe Bozek, Pittsburgh; Dick Anderson, Ohio State; Andy Wodziak, Illinois.

Tackles—Pat Sarnese, Temple; Gordy Serr, Michigan State; William Bruner, Purdue; Robert Weddell, Illinois.

Guards—Don Barney, Penn State; Jack Houston, Purdue; William Cockley, Shippensburg, Pa., State Teachers.

Centers—Jim Dooley, Penn State; Bob Smith, Penn State.

Backs — Stanley Butterworth, Bucknell; Bradford Myers, Bucknell; Earl Hersh, West Chester, Pa., Teachers; Ed Timmerman, Michigan State; Wayne Benson, Michigan State; Bill Leonard, Penn State; Ted Marchibroda, Detroit; Phil Klezek, Purdue; Marts Beekley, Ohio State; Church Hren, Northwestern.

No Comment From Peters On Meetings

... Big 7 Dons Confer

"There will be no announcements until late Friday afternoon."

That was the word from Executive Secretary Reaves E. Peters, regarding the Big Seven conference's winter meetings at the Cornhusker Hotel.

"We have been discussing a number of things, but there have been no definite decisions," he said.

Among the topics were postseason competition in football and the American Council on Education's recommendations on athletic de-emphasis.

Meeting Thursday were the faculty representatives, athletic directors, business managers and comptrollers. The conference presidents will meet Friday and Saturday with the football mentors convening Sunday.

The presidents are concerned with pulling Big Seven rules into line with the ACE code. The faculty representatives were expected to consider that limiting the length of seasons may bar conference teams from NCAA basketball tournaments.

'52 NU Mark Second Best Since Rose Bowl

Nebraska's 1952 football record of five victories, four losses and one tie was the second best since the Cornhuskers' 1940 Rose Bowl team.

In 1940 the Huskers had an 8-1 regular season record and then lost to Stanford in the Rose Bowl.

Coach Bill Glassford's 1950 edition had the best post-Rose Bowl mark with six victories, two defeats and a tie.

Adlai And HST Talk U.S. Welfare

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman and the man he hoped would succeed him discussed plans Thursday for recapturing control of Congress in 1954. But both expressed agreement that the country's welfare should be placed ahead of the Democratic party's.

As Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson put it: "Party interests must be subordinated to the interests of the country and the public welfare."

Hours later, Truman told a news conference the Democrats should give the new Republican administration a chance to operate, and he said he will be as happy as anybody else if the Republicans operate all right.

That was the President's way of declining requests for comment on President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower's Cabinet designations.

Keep Party Alive

Truman said his talks with Stevenson, the unsuccessful Democratic nominee for President, dealt with plans for keeping the party alive so it can take over Congress again in 1954.

"We do not intend to try to influence Democrats in Congress to obstruct, delay or in any way imperil the national welfare and the new administration's program insofar as it is compatible with the views of our party," Stevenson said.

The Illinois governor, who came here Wednesday to discuss the party's future with Truman, had an amiable session with reporters at the White House, where he is a guest.

The Democrats' two major problems, he said, are to pay off a deficit of more than half a million dollars and to "serve the public interest."

Regain Confidence

"Our job now," he said, "is to recognize that the Democratic party can regain public confidence and esteem only to the extent that it serves the national interest."

As for his own future, Stevenson said he has no immediate plans other than to take a long rest and possibly travel abroad.

The governor, whose term expires next month, also said he knows of no plans for a change in the Democratic National Committee's top leadership, although he said a reorganization may be necessary to overcome the financial deficit.

The retiring governor planned to fly back to Illinois Friday morning.

A Vote For Pinay

PARIS (INS) — Premier Antoine Pinay's French government won a confidence vote Thursday on his demand that the National Assembly give priority to a discussion of the budget. The unofficial vote was 313 to 207.

ELDERLY ROBBERY SUSPECT — Alfred H. Hughes, 60, holds his head after Oila Wang (left), an airline ticket office clerk, identified him as the man who attempted to rob the office Wednesday night. He was grabbed as he left the office. Police are questioning Hughes, who was booked on suspicion of robbery, on the theory he may be the "Grandma" bandit who has held up several banks in Los Angeles recently. California Widow Is Five Millionth S.S. Beneficiary

SAN FRANCISCO (INS)—Mrs. Dolores Plaa, a 23-year-old widow of San Rafael, Calif., Thursday became the five millionth beneficiary of the nation's social security program.

Mrs. Plaa, the mother of two small children, was widowed last Nov. 17 when her husband, James, 30, a foreman for the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., was killed by carbon monoxide fumes from a defective furnace in the family home.

At a special ceremony, Mrs. Plaa was presented with a check for $423.90.

The check represented a lump-sum death benefit of $255 and the first of $168.90 monthly payments the widow and two children will receive.

"It is wonderful," Mrs. Plaa said. "This means I can stay home and take care of the children instead of going out to work to support them."

AMA Asks For Federal Health Office

DENVER (INS)—The American Medical Association called Thursday for the creation of a federal Department of Health with cabinet status in President-elect Eisenhower's administration.

A resolution adopted by the AMA House of Delegates said the need for a federal Health Department is "increasingly obvious because the health activities of the federal government have become very extensive."

Five Constitutional Changes Now In Effect

Five amendments to Nebraska state constitution, approved by the voters in the Nov. 4 election, now are officially in effect.

Gov. Val Peterson formally proclaimed them, as required by law, and sent the proclamation to the secretary of state before leaving for Chicago for sessions of the Council of State Governments over which he was to preside Thursday and Friday.

Spellman To Spend Yuletide In Korea

NEW YORK (INS) — Francis Cardinal Spellman announced Thursday that for the second straight year he will fly to Korea to spend Christmas time with "America's soldier-sons . . . suffering and dying in the frozen war-torn lands of the Pacific."

The New York archbishop, who is vicar of Catholics in the U. S. Armed Forces, will take off on his 10-day visit to Korea on Dec. 17.

Cardinal Spellman last year spent 10 days during the Christmas season at the Korean front.

Fine Arts Ensemble Sets High Standard At Opening Concert

By RAY SCHAUMBERG

The Fine Arts Ensemble opened its fifth season Thursday night at the University's Student Union Ballroom and the usual faithful were on hand for the opener which consisted of three widely contrasting selections: the String Quartet in D Major, Opus 76, No. 5 by Josef Haydn, Two Pieces for String Quartet by Ernest Bloch and the Piano Quintet, Opus 44, of Robert Schumann.

The ensemble was enriched by the presence of a newcomer at cello, Mrs. Helena Bell, whose fine playing added an almost somber richness to the timbre of the quartet. She is an excellent technician but a better musician and it is hoped that her addition to the ensemble is not temporary.

The opening and closing selections of the concert, the Haydn quartet and the Schumann quintet, were played to the satisfaction of all, but the Bloch work was for most everyone the chef d'ouvre of the evening since it is quite new and since most everyone welcomes anything by Bloch with enthusiasm. The two Pieces for String Quartet is some of Bloch's most significant writing and will certainly fall into the category of his best works.

Both pieces, the Andante Moderati and the Allegro Molto, are terrifyingly complex upon first hearing; yet the precise workmanship of the composer is evident. Above and beyond theoretical considerations, both of the pieces are fraught with the same intense emotional nationalism that marks all of Bloch's writing.

The first piece, Andante Moderati, is deeply introspective and on the surface, subdued; but a strong emotional undercurrent is sensed rather than heard. The second piece, Allegro Molto, is wild and passionate, with sharply contrasting rhythms, much parallelism of minor ninth chords, and stinging dissonances. It is a credit to the ensemble that this was their best playing of the evening, for the Bloch work sounds tremendously difficult in all respects of quartet work.

Mesdames Bell and May and Messrs Wishnow, Morsman, and Gilbert have set themselves a very high standard to live up to for the rest of the season but if the other concerts go as well as the opening concert, no one will be dissatisfied.

Boys Quartet Formed

Four Northeast High School boys have organized a quartet, consisting of Jerry DeHart, bass; Ron Livingston, baritone; Jere Mitchell, second tenor, and Howard Thrapp, first tenor.

"Brother John, Brother Will," "Jingle Bells," "Blue Tail Fly," and "I've Got A Sixpense" are a few of the songs which they are preparing.

It has been several years since a boys' small group has been included in the music department.

Here's how to work it: Each letter in your name will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 6. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

ONE MAN'S OPINION By Walter Kiernan

(Distributed By International News Service)

With a new Bible hitting the best-seller lists and a clergyman topping television polls maybe we aren't lost yet.

☆ ☆ ☆

There's even a possibility that we'll get a little spiritual significance into Christmas this year.

☆ ☆ ☆

Kiernan

The new Bible did over a million and a half copies in eight weeks and was right behind Tallulah Bankhead's autobiography last time we looked.

☆ ☆ ☆

Considering that Tallulah's life story has been less widely known and presumabley was more eagerly sought after it's interesting to know that people are still eager to re-read the calmer lives of Moses and the prophets.

☆ ☆ ☆

And perhaps it might be pointed out that "a man named Peter" also is edging up toward the spot now held by a Bankhead named Tallulah.

I don't know what's come over us but this time it's nothing bad, thank goodness.

☆ ☆ ☆

Because if we're suposed to lead the world we'll need all the help we can get from upstairs.

Lumber Bogs Down

MANILA (AP)—The once-thriving Philippines lumber industry has fallen upon hard times, and it wants government help.

A recent survey shows sales fallen off to Japan and the U. S., the two major customers. The decline is attributed to the Korean War and the fact that Japan now has repaired much of its war damage.

Renato Arevalo, a Manila lumber company executive, says the lumber industry has been the Philippines most steady dollar producer. He proposed that the government adopt "a commonsense attitude regarding tax and other control measures."

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Stocks Strong; Rally Fails; Close Lower

NEW YORK (AP) — A fairly strong attempt at a rally was made Thursday by the stock market, but the try failed and the market closed at a loss.

Motors formed the keystone of the early advance, but they too retreated. At the close, however, motors were steady. That was the best that any major division could do.

Thursday's net decline was not very great, only about half the size of Wednesday's fall.

It was the first time the market has suffered two successive reverses since before the Eisenhower election boom began.

Brokers were inclined to view the setbacks as a part of a general consolidation that comes as a natural sequel to the sustained advance of the past month.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks lost 20 cents at $111.90 with both the industrial and the railroad components off 30 cents each and the utilities unchanged.

The market was a little broader than Wednesday with 1,189 individual issues traded of which 394 advanced and 492 declined with 60 new highs and four new lows for the year touched during the session.

Curb exchange stocks were mostly lower with trading at 650,000 shares as compared with 540,000 shares traded Wednesday.

CommoditiesLower; Beans, Lard Lead

CHICAGO (AP)—Soybeans and lard, reflecting an easier trend in fats and oils markets, led other commodities lower on the Board of Trade Thursday.

The December, July and September lard contracts scored new seasonal lows. Loose lard eased ⅛ cent to sell 7¾ cents a pound, lowest price since 1941.

Soybeans showed a little easiness early but it wasn't until the closing hour that selling picked up speed. Wheat had one short lived upward spurt around noon, losing all the gains later. December oats were independently firm on short-covering.

Wheat closed ⅛-⅝ lower, corn ⅞-1¼ lower, oats ¼ lower to ⅝ higher, rye ⅝-1½ lower, soybeans 1¼-3¼ lower and lard 12 to 30 cents a hundred pounds lower.

It was corn which proved the real disappointment to the bullish contingent. Strong Wednesday corn opened barely steady and before the session was over had lost just about everything it gained Wednesday.

Cash corn receipts expanded, totaling 179 cars—about 100 cars more than on other days this week.

Wheat's momentary flash of strength carried prices up around a cent from the previous close. This move followed news that Portugal had bought a cargo of hard wheat, that the United Kingdom was inquiring for the grain and that Italy would make its purchases Dec. 11.

Aside from further easiness in soybean oil and meal, soybeans had to deal with reports processors had ample supplies. It was said these supplies would last for several months. Marketings of cash soybeans continued light.

BOND MARKET

NEW YORK AP—The bond market tilted lower late Thursday.

Railroads were narrowly mixed and active throughout the session, but afternoon declines in the industrial and utility departments shifted the majority of the corporate list into the minus column.

Most U. S. government bonds were unchanged in meager over-the-counter trading.

Volume totaled $4,270,000 par value, compared with $4,070,000 Wednesday.

Eisenhower Will Be Own President—McNaughton

By MARILYN KIRKEBY
Star Staff Writer

Eisenhower will be his own president, there will be new faces and new thinking in all governmental policy-making agencies, and the "get tough" policy with Russia will be followed.

Those are the highlights of the address given by Frank McNaughton, Washington bureau staff member for Time magazine for the past 20 years, Thursday at a University of Nebraska journalism convocation. McNaughton's topic was "Washington—1953."

"Eisenhower is acutely aware that he ran far ahead of the Republican party in the nation," McNaughton said. "The Republicans certainly did not win any popularity contest in the last election."

McNaughton stated that he believed Eisenhower will be a constitutional president. "There will be no more actions such as President Truman took in the steel case. If the law is not adequate to cover a given situation, the law should be changed," the journalist said.

'Clean' Pattern

During the first six months of the new administration, Eisenhower will set a pattern of clean government, according to McNaughton. "And if he can do it—it will make the crusade in Europe look like a shuffle."

McNaughton suggested that there will be 3,500 top policy-making jobs changed from the start of the new administration and 15,000 to 20,000 changed in the first four years.

"I'd like to see about 25,000 changed in the first year if we had to amend the Civil Service Act to do it," the Time writer stated. "We're loaded now with deadwood."

He said he also believed, on the basis of information received from "high level sources," that Eisenhower will conduct a re-examination of the military command and that there will be new appointments to the Chiefs of Staff "sometime in June."

Praises Dulles

Speaking of John Foster Dulles, whom Eisenhower has appointed Secretary of State, McNaughton said, "He recognizes our number one enemy is Russia. He's hard—and determined to get away from the deplorable situation of the past years where the pressure was all on us. We'll be getting off the receiving end and start giving it. This will mean great risks—but they are risks we can't afford not to take."

Henry Cabot Lodge, who will head the U. S. delegation to the United Nations, was described by McNaughton as a man "who will infuriate the Russians to the point of futility—he'll deal with the Russians on their own level."

The general foreign policy of the Republican administration, as seen by McNaughton, will be "new personnel and new thinking in the State department." Dulles will set up a general plan on foreign policy covering the world pattern, and the Far East will get more attention.

Using typical Time vernacular, McNaughton described Eisenhower's Secretary of Defense, Charles E. Wilson, as a "dyspeptic bulldog."

"He's an able administrator, however, and the one man who can take the kinks out of our defense program. I think it's one of the greatest appointments Eisenhower has made," McNaughton declared.

McNaughton prophesized that the defense budget would be cut but that national defense would not suffer as a result. Other planned courses of action will be, according to the writer, a step up in arms to Asia by insisting Europe step up her defense production, and the training of six South Korean divisions to relieve the U. S. troops.

Eisenhower's trip to Korea was termed a "great risk" by McNaughton. "It will not be a personal risk as much as a risk to national morale if he comes back without a solution to the problem," McNaughton explained.

He added that the Eisenhower administration has no plans, as yet, concerning the Korean War.

Communism 'Solved'

McNaughton predicted that the "ungodly commotion and clatter over Communism" will be solved when the new administration takes over.

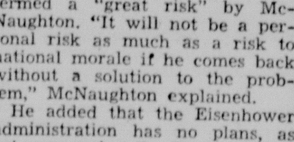

"Truman played into the hands of such men as McCarthy and Jenner by taking no definite action on the Communist problem in the U. S.," McNaughton said. "As a result, the rights of the United States may have been jeopardized."

In McNaughton's opinion, the loyalty program can be made to work within the framework of the present law.

The journalist said he believed that a "borderline" case—a man who is suspected of Communist sympathies—should be resolved in favor of the government and the man should be transferred to a job where he would not be a security risk.
